Forest Lands On Island West Coast Hunted For Plane

Men Landed From Plane Search the Whole of Hesquiat Lake Region

No Trace of Four Missing Persons

ZEBALLOS, B.C. (CP)—Search for the missing Ginger Coote Airways seaplane switched from air to ground today as fliers seeking Pilot Len Waagen of Edmonton and his three passengers landed at Hesquiat Lake and started covering that west coast of Vancouver Island area on foot.

The searchers said they had "covered the whole search area as well as we can from the air," and that districts where residents thought they had seen a plane last Friday would be combed by men on the ground.

Emphasis of the search today was concentrated around Hesquiat Lake, where several families live. Constable B. Frost of the British Columbia Police; Ray Pitre and Herb Pevis were taken there by airplane to interview these families and hunt over timbered lands bordering the lake.

Some observers said it was possible Pilot Waagen had been forced to set down his plane early Friday afternoon, about five hours after he had left Vancouver for this west coast mining town. With Waagen on the flight were Mrs. George Nicholson of Zeballos, Charles R. Rumsey of Toronto and H. Boyd of Steveston, B.C.

As the Hesquit lake search progressed, police and fishing boats were dispatched along the rugged island coast between Sidney Inlet and Nootka Sound with other shore parties which will comb the hills and mountains near the water.

BEULAH HELD FOR SALVAGE

Seizure Order Executed Here Today For Claim of $20,000

A seizure order against the motorship Beulah was served here today, holding the ill-fated vessel for a claim made by the Pacific Salvage Company Ltd. for $20,000 in salvage services.

The warrant was taken out by Martin Griffin, attorney for the salvage company in Vancouver, and the seizure was executed by H. W. Goggin, marshal in admiralty.

The claim covers work done by the company from January to April of this year.

The case is expected to go before the Exchequer Court of Canada, Admiralty District, over which Chief Justice Martin presides. Hearings will probably be held in Vancouver.

Disabled in a terrific storm off the southwest coast of the island late last December, the Beulah, with one member of its crew missing, was brought to Victoria for repairs. The vessel sank at Ogden Point and several unsuccessful efforts to raise her were made before she was brought to the surface. At present the ship is lying at the salvage company's dock.

BOLZANO, Italy (CP)—A pending royal visit to the Italian Tyrol and allocation of numerous public works funds, coming after German absorption of Austria, were seen today as increasing evidence that Italy is trying to bind the region with its 250,000 German inhabitants closer than ever in Italian allegiance. Crown Prince Umberto and his wife are to start a tour of the mountainous district June 4.

TRIPLETS BORN TO VICTORIAN

Former Marjorie Fraser Has First Triple Birth to White Woman in Shanghai

Word has been received from Shanghai that Mrs. H. C. Pimms, formerly Miss Marjorie Fraser of Victoria, gave birth to triplets there on May 5.

It is stated by the Shanghai papers to be the first case on record of a triple birth to a white woman in Shanghai.

Mrs. Pimms' mother, Mrs. J. D. Fraser of Cedar Hill Road, will sail for Shanghai on Tuesday on the Ss. Empress of Russia to join her daughter.

The latest news received by Mrs. Pimms' sister-in-law, Mrs. W. I. Fraser, Seaview Avenue, said the mother and the children—two boys and a girl—were in good health. The birth occurred at the County Hospital in the international settlement. Mrs. Pimms was under the care of Dr. E. G. Gauntlett.

Mrs. Pimms is a graduate of the Jubilee Hospital here. She was educated at George Jay School and Victoria High School.

She was married in Shanghai in 1936. Her husband, a native of Nottinghamshire in England, is a member of the Shanghai Municipal Police attached to the Gordon Road police station.

Hundreds Search Princeton, Fla., Area For Trace of Jimmy Cash

PRINCETON, Fla. (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, took charge of the James Bailey Cash kidnapping case today while small boats and divers augmented a huge posse combing this area in the rain for a trace of the five-year-old victim.

Arriving at Miami from Washington, Hoover hastened immediately to the B.B.I. office in a downtown skyscraper where agents had been questioning several suspects for 24 hours. He refused, as had his subordinates, to discuss the case, and indicated he expected to be here several days.

Hundreds of men in khaki veterans' uniforms and hunting togs, many with pistols at their belts, assembled at dawn and were taken out in farm trucks to the sectors assigned for the second day of the search.

The senior Cash and his wife remained secluded in their frame apartment building, although the father came to the door to receive three telegrams.

It was learned the anguished mother, who had been prostrate with grief, finally was sleeping.

Men On Strike At Blubber Bay

Group Walks Out at Lime Plant After Arbitration Fails

Twenty-one white men and 70 Chinese in the lime plant operated by the Pacific Lime Company at Blubber Bay went on strike this morning, the Department of Labor was advised.

The men, it was said, carried out the notice of a strike they gave after conciliation and arbitration proceedings under the province's new industrial disputes law failed to bring about a settlement of their complaints.

Men employed in a sawmill recently opened by the company did not join the strike, the information said.

New conciliation and arbitration of the dispute requested in a petition from the men has been refused, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, announced this morning as the deadline for a strike set by the men arrived.

Mr. Pearson said the petition was signed by 30 men working in the sawmill. These men were not parties to the original dispute so their signatures on the petition could not be recognized, he said. Without them the petitioners did not represent a majority of the men.

British Columbia Police said the strikers were quiet and there had been no hint of trouble. Sergeant T. D. Sutherland and Constables R. Allen and L. G. M. McMillan of Powell River detachment went to Blubber Bay.

FINES IMPOSED ON OIL FIRMS

Thirteen Companies in U.S. to Pay $385,000; Others Face Trial

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone today assessed fines of $360,000 and $25,000 costs against 13 major oil companies and 11 of their officials on charges of illegally fixing the margin of profit for independent, wholesale gasoline jobbers in the midwest.

Judge Stone accepted the defendants' pleas of nolo contendere by which they were willing to accept penalties without standing trial.

Eight other companies and a like number officials, who refused to enter nolo contendere pleas, will go on trial in Madison September 23.

In the case of each company and individual whose pleas were accepted the court imposed a fine of $15,000. The costs of $25,000 are to be split among the defendants.

Chamberlain's Move to End Franco-Loyalist War Stated Approved By Italy

Armistice and Conference in Spain Are Objective of British Government in Wide New Drive to Give Europe Stable Peace; Direct Negotiations With Germany Hoped for If Czechoslovakian Dispute Is Settled

LONDON (AP)—Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, this week starting his second year as Prime Minister, was reported today to have initiated fresh diplomatic activity in Spain, Czechoslovakia, Germany and France to restore and keep European peace.

The cabinet was understood to have approved a two-fold plan:

1. To bring the Spanish government and Spanish insurgents together in a round table peace conference, a course which unconfirmed reports said Premier Mussolini of Italy already has approved.

2. Negotiation of a solution of difficulties between the Czechoslovak government and its minority of Sudeten Germans, who have the pledged "protection" of Germany.

The government's hope of mediating the Spanish civil war, which will have been drawn out for two years July 18, was based on two factors:

1. The belief in influential quarters many Spaniards on both sides of the conflict are sick of war and would welcome a peace parley.

2. Definite signs of progress toward obtaining withdrawal of foreign volunteers fighting in the war.

Some quarters said Great Britain favored as a possible basis for a peace discussion the 13-point program for the Spain of the future advanced May 1 by Premier Juan Negrin of the Spanish government.

This program included a guarantee of civil, social and religious liberty, assurance of the absolute independence of Spain from foreign powers, riddance of military forces, agrarian reforms to eliminate feudal aristocratic landowners, a guarantee of rights through social legislation and full amnesty for all Spaniards who would co-operate in reconstruction.

The British government, in order to work out its plan, was prepared to advocate formation of a post-war Spanish government from among men who have taken no active part in the civil war.

By ending the Spanish civil war Prime Minister Chamberlain would bring into effect the Anglo-Italian accord which was signed April 16. The pact will not become fully effective until Italy has withdrawn her volun-

Manslaughter Bail Is $3,000

Robert L. Eccles Charged By Provincial Police After Death of R. Perkins

Robert Lionel Eccles, driver of the car in which Royston Perkins was fatally injured on the Island Highway last Friday, was charged with manslaughter in the Provincial Police Court this morning.

Bail was set at $3,000, on application of P. J. Sinnott, defence counsel, and the case was remanded until Wednesday afternoon next at 2.

The charge alleged that Eccles, at the intersection of the Island Highway and Palmer Station Road, "did kill and slay Royston Perkins and thereby commit manslaughter."

Sergeant Richard Harvey appeared for the prosecution and requested a remand.

Perkins died Saturday morning after the car in which he and Eccles were driving turned over and crashed in a fence, a splinter from the fence piercing Perkins' skull.

Fishing Vessels Go Down As Big Storm Sweeps Over Britain

Believed Number of Craft Lost Off Hastings; Property Losses on Land

LONDON (CP-Havas) — The British Isles were swept today by a storm that lashed the coast and caused heavy damage. At Brighton, Eastbourne, Dover and Folkestone the wind reached a velocity of 90 miles an hour.

Many fishing vessels in the vicinity of Hastings were feared lost. At the racecourse at Epsom Downs, where only yesterday 400,000 people viewed the Derby, bookmakers' stands were blown down.

The liner Queen Mary could not enter the harbor at Cherbourg, where 270 passengers waited to board her. They were lodged on tenders for the night.

The German steamship Marie Leonhardt of Hamburg, plunging through heavy seas in the English Channel, found the drifting wreckage of the yacht Ymbrin owned by Colonel Harafin of Guernsey. One man was picked up and another was believed lost overboard.

Another yachtsman, Frank Lewis, 64, of the Sussex Yacht Club, died of exposure after being rescued from his 12-ton yacht Merlin in Portsmouth harbor.

YACHT SINKS

A yacht with apparently no one aboard was sighted south of the Isle of Wight. When it reached a point half a mile from St. Catherine Point it overturned and sank.

Floods were reported in north Wales, where at various points more than a foot of water was covering streets and roads.

Sixty-six trunk and junction telephone lines were down and three rural exchanges were entirely isolated. Fourteen lines between Ireland and England were down.

In Kent more than 2,000 subscribers, in south Midland 3,200, southwestern district 1,081 and in London area 2,941 subscribers were cut off.

Slight Changes of Position In Great Battle In China

By ELMER W. PETERSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff

SHANGHAI (AP)—Warplanes of the army of Nippon again spread a trail of destruction on Thursday through towns and villages about the Lunghai railway, and Japanese said this enabled their columns to make important gains. The Japanese announced they had occupied a corner of Kishien, 20 miles south of Lanfeng, after an hour's fight.

Chinese field gun positions north of Kishien were damaged heavily.

For two weeks the Japanese have been fighting for staunchly-defended villages about Lanfeng, railway station on the Lunghai on the westward route to Chengchow, whence they hope to turn southward in a mass offensive against Hankow, China's provisional capital.

TOWN STATED OCCUPIED

One Japanese detachment claimed occupation of Luyi, 15 miles west of Pohsein, thereby helping to straighten the 75-mile crescent-shaped front running south from Lanfeng.

Capture by Chinese of three villages north and east of Lanfeng kept Japanese from lifting the siege of the division com-

Report On Slaying Of Peter Levine

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Amos O. Squire, Westchester County medical examiner, said today he was convinced the kidnapper decapitated 12-year-old Peter Levine before dumping the body into Long Island Sound.

The father, Murray Levine, New York attorney, tried several times to contact the kidnappers and pay $30,000 ransom demand for the boy, who disappeared February 24. The headless body was found on a Long Island beach last Sunday.

Six Dead and Two Missing After Blast

Six Men Seriously Burned in Explosion in Coal Pit in Pennsylvania

SCRANTON, Pa., (AP)—Six men were known to be dead, six others were seriously burned and two were missing as the result of an explosion today in the Butler mine in this eastern Pennsylvania anthracite field.

Possibility of a higher death toll was indicated by rescuers who said they were searching for those who might be alive rather than bodies.

The injured men said the blast was preceded by a rock fall which shut off the ventilation.

Today's blast was the second in the eastern Pennsylvania anthracite region in little more than a month.

Eight were killed and 10 injured April 27 by an explosion in the southern hard coal field. The Butler mine is operated by the Volpe Coal Co.

Matric Students Escaping Exams

New High School Accrediting Plan Relieves Some Pupils of Tests

Broad smiles on the faces of matriculation students at the high schools, usually long and worried-looking about this time of year, may be traced to the fact that for the first time this June hundreds of British Columbia boys and girls will not have to write departmental examinations to enter the University of British Columbia.

The Department of Education announced today that the new system of accrediting high schools which may recommend pupils to university entrance has been settled for this year.

Approximately 50 per cent of the provincial high schools have been given this standing, including those in Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt.

The effect of the new policy, which is part of the trend to get away from the examination "bugbear" in the schools, is that students with good standing in their term's work on a subject will not have to face the ordeal of written government tests, the bogey of most matric students.

In Victoria, as with large high schools throughout the province, not more than 40 per cent of the matric students can be recommended. Others must write. Students trying for university scholarships must write, of course. And those who are not recommended have the right to take the exams if they wish.

Education department officials said today they could not estimate exactly how many students would be freed from examinations by the new plan. Last year 1,545 wrote the full papers and another 3,000 wrote one or more subjects.

The accrediting plan will be fixed year by year for the time being. Each high school will have to make an annual application to renew its status.

The qualifications which a school must have before it can recommend pupils to the university have been worked out by the education department and the university senate as follows:

Charges Trusts Were Looted

Dewey, New York Prosecutor, Presses Action Against Six Men

NEW YORK (AP)—Financial circles today were stirred by reports there would be further indictments in District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's investigation of a ring which he charged pyramided $5 into control of investment trusts with assets of $16,000,000.

Six indictments were announced yesterday by the district attorney, who denounced the alleged looting of seven investment trusts by the group as "the biggest financial steal in years"

The ringleaders, Dewey said, devised a method whereby investment trusts were made to pay for their own acquisition and stripping.

The only original expenditure, he said, was the $5 spent to incorporate a Canadian holding company, the Fiscal Management Co. Limiited of Toronto.

As explained by Dewey, the system involved the wasting of about $3 out of every $4 of the investment trusts' assets. The "looters," he said, substituted worthless securities for marketable securities to repay the money they had borrowed to purchase control.

Saskatchewan Candidates 157

Four-cornered Fights in 13 Ridings in June 8 Provincial Election

REGINA (CP)—Two women and 155 men were back at the democratic games of vote-catching today, having paused yesterday long enough to file nomination papers for the Saskatchewan election.

With polling June 8, they will fight it out in 47 ridings for 50 seats in the Legislature. This is the way they line up: Liberals, 50; Social Credit, 41; C.C.F., 31; Conservatives, 23; Independents, 5; Independent Labor, 3; Labor-Progressives, 2; Independent Social Credit, 1; Independent Conservative, 1; total, 157. Included in the list of Independents is A. C. Stewart of Yorkton, nominated as a Union-Progressive.

Each candidate posted a deposit of $100, which the provincial treasury will take unless he gets half the votes polled by the winning man in his riding.

With four major parties in the field, it was inevitable that straight fights would be few. There will be 21 three-cornered contests, 13 with four candidates running and only 10 with two men in the field. Fighting for two member seats are nine candidates in Regina, seven in Saskatoon and six in Moose Jaw.

DELAYED POLLING

There are 49 ridings altogether in Saskatchewan, electing 52 members, but the far-northern constituencies of Athabaska and Cumberland will not go to the polls until July 28, with nominations due June 30. Already in the field are two Liberals in Athabaska and a Liberal and a Conservative in Cumberland.

There were comparatively few surprises yesterday. The executive of the Western Canada Social Credit Association, four Alberta cabinet ministers and an Alberta member of parliament, selected 44 candidates. Four of them withdrew and an extra man entered the field to make a total of 41.

The four Social Crediters who failed to qualify were J. C. Davey in Arm River, M. J. Haver in Bengough, Chris Haun in Lumsden and John Doran in Regina.

SURPRISE IN REGINA

The big surprise of the day was in Regina. Two Social Credit candidates, T. A. McInnis and John Doran were the nominees of the western association. McInnis, however, filed his papers in the nearby riding of Lumsden, taking Haun's place, and Doran declined to run.

For a time it looked as if Regina would go to the polls without a Social Credit candidate. Shortly before the deadline, however, papers were filed by J. H. Crawford, secretary of the Saskatchewan Social Credit League.

In addition to the four Social Crediters, two Conservative nominees withdrew and two Independents. The Conservatives who left the fields to Liberal, C.C.F. and Social Credit nominees were Alvin Hamilton in Biggar and C. G. Hare in Medow Lake. In addition, in the riding of Torch River, Robert Henderson, who had been the Conservative party's choice, withdrew and his place was taken by C. B. Euler.

The Independents who withdrew were George Hindley in Wilkie, making it a straight fight between a Liberal and a Social Crediter, and Miss C. E. Sheldon-Williams in Regina.

TWO WOMEN IN FIELD

Her failure to qualify left only two wmen in the field, Mrs. Gladys Strum, C.C.F., who is Premier W. J. Patterson's only opponent in Cannington, and Mrs. Gertrude Telford, also a C.C.F., who has a straight fight in Pelly with Hon. R. J. M. Parker, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Painful Piles
Can be Quickly Relieved
If you think there is no way to relieve the misery of piles, it's because you don't know of HEM-ROID, an internal medicine, from a prescription written by Dr. Loenhardt, a western physician.
The real cause of piles is on the inside—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowels, with the tiny rectal veins full of stagnant, impure blood.
Dr. Leonhardt decided the way to relieve piles was internally, with a medicine which would ease the congestion of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and help to heal and restore the sore, tender spots. After many tests he wrote the prescription which has been so successful in giving quick relief from pile misery, it is now offered to you with our promise that you may have your money back if you are not completely satisfied after using one bottle.
No matter what kind of piles you have or how long you have had them, HEM-ROID must show you the quick, clean way to get rid of your pile misery or your money will be given back to you. MacFarlane and Vancolver Drug Stores or any other druggist can supply you with HEM-ROID and will back up this promise.

Force Besieged

Lt.-Gen. K. Doihara, above, has not succeeded in extricating his Japanese division from the trap into which it went in the Lunghai railway region of central China. It has been besieged for days by a Chinese force.

SLIGHT CHANGES OF POSITION IN GREAT BATTLE IN CHINA

manded by Lieut.-Gen. Kenji Doihara, the defenders said.

A Chinese motor unit of 4,500 men fought one of the bitterest battles of the day 20 miles west of Kewiteh, another Lunghai railway point in Honan province. The Chinese were reported routed after several hours' fighting.

Reports from other fronts last night said Chinese had recaptured 10 cities in southern Shansi province, crippling Japanese communications on the northern front, and that Chinese and Japanese were locked in a battle around Hofei, in central Anhwei province.

POSSES OUT WHILE SUSPECTS HELD

in a vegetable warehouse here and relaying them to posses.

The federal men centred efforts on tracking down the abductors, who accepted a $10,000 ransom payment without returning the victim.

In their custody were several persons—no outsider knew exactly how many—and a number of finds regarded as clues. But if the government's "kidnap squad" already knew who took young Cash from his bedroom last Saturday night it was a closely-guarded secret.

TOLD TO DIG

An indication of what the F.B.I. men think the searchers might find was contained in final instructions of E. J. Connelly, head of the Justice Department forces, to the posses.

"We must face the strong possibility this little boy will be found dead," Connelly told the posse leaders. "If you see signs of freshly disturbed dirt—dig. Take your time and dig deeply. Look well in every canal you pass, and in every clump of bushes. Overlook nothing."

Connelly also gave instructions that if the boy is found alive he be taken immediately to the nearest hospital or to his home.

One of those questioned in F.B.I. headquarters at Miami yestehday was M. F. Braxton, unemployed carpenter and Princeton neighbor of the Cash family. He was taken into custody yesterday after the agents had conferred with the sorrowing father and mother.

Food Stored In Great Britain

LONDON (CP)—The British government has completed for the present war-time purchases of wheat, sugar and whale oil.

"No further purchases are at present contemplated," Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, told the House of Commons today as he moved second reading of the government's authorizing bill.

Wheat, Mr. Stanley said, would be stored mainly at British western ports. Inland storage was considered, but the additional cost was not considered justified.

MORE NAZIFICATION

BERLIN (AP)—A decree published today in the official Reichsgesetzblatt ordered co-ordination of the Austrian civil service with that of Germany. Jewish or partly Jewish and politically unreliable elements are to be eliminated. The whole Austrian civil service is to be completely Nazified by December 31, 1939.

The first telephone patent was granted to Alexander Graham Bell March 7, 1876.

Views Differ On Rail Studies

Senate Committee on C.N.R.-C.P.R. Hears Chairman Urge Adjournment

OTTAWA (CP)—Proposal of Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader, that the Senate's railway committee adjourn through the whole of next week to give the Canadian National Railways experts an opportunity "to test" the submissions made by the Canadian Pacific Railway officials was resisted at today's hearing by E. P. Flintoff, C.P.R. legal adviser.

He hoped the hearing was not developing into "a contest between the C.P.R. and the C.N.R." If such time were permitted the C.N.R. to examine evidence, which had already been in their possession since May 18, with a view to shooting holes in it, then the C.P.R. should further be allowed to comment on whatever those C.N.R. men had to say, he declared.

A lively interchange featured Senator Dandurand's announcement, which set forth that a lengthy adjournment might be necessary, for that reason and for the added reason that next week the Senate and its various other committees would be tied up with other legislative business.

The suggestion of "contest" between the railway experts was scored by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader.

"Why it should appear one way to the C.P.R. and another way to the C.N.R. passes my comprehension," he declared. He could not understand why this railway problem should find one company inclining one way and the other company another.

"And it is suggested we could conduct this as a trial between them," he said. "There must be an explanation for this lineup that I don't understand."

The committee today heard D. L. Howard, assistant general manager of the C.P.R. telegraphs, explain how approximately $1,000,000 a year could be saved by unifying the two telegraph systems, while Captain R. W. McMurray set forth that, under unification, $450,000 could be saved on the British Columbia coastal services.

Under co-operation $220,000 would be saved annually at a capital cost of $24,600, Mr. Howard said.

BRITISH NAVAL BILL $630,587,500

Supplementary Estimates For New Ships Made Public By Admiralty

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty today published supplementary naval estimates totaling £2,410,500 ($12,052,500), bringing the country's naval bill for the year to a grand total of £126,117,500 ($630,587,500).

The supplementary sum will be used mainly for preliminary expenses in connection with new naval construction.

Vessels to be started this year include two battleships, seven cruisers, one aircraft carrier, three submarines, a destroyer depot ship, a submarine depot ship, a fleet air arm supply and repair ship, three minelayers, two gunboats, seven motorboats, three general service lighters, one baggage lighter and miscellaneous craft.

The original naval estimates issued in February did not include the initial cost of new construction because of the uncertainty about Japan's program.

The new estimates do not state the tonnages and gun calibres decided on as a result of British-United States "escalation," increasing the limits of the London Naval Treaty.

It was regarded unlikely, however, the new British battleships would be over 40,000 tons as compared with the treaty limit of 35,000, or that gun calibres would exceed the 16-inch treaty limit. But the ships will be faster and more heavily armored.

METEOR SEEN AT SPOKANE

SPOKANE (AP)—A meteor, streaking low through the northern sky, thrilled North Idaho and Northwestern Washington residents about 7.30 last night.

From Spoken, the ball of fire appeared over North Idaho about 45 degrees from the horizon and seemed to crash northeast of Spokane after describing a long arc.

Just before the ball hit the earth, it broken into at least three pieces, said Mrs. A. B. McElhoe.

Reports of the meteor's visibility were made as far south as Lewiston, Idaho, but apparently it was not seen south of Spokane in Washington.

BRITAIN PROPOSES SPAIN PEACE CONFERENCE

teers before or after the war has ended.

The Spanish dispute likewise has halted negotiation of a similar Italo-French accord.

With British, Italian and French disputes settled, it would be a part of Mr. Chamberlain's policy to bring Germany into the general accord.

By ending of the Spanish war and settling of the Czechoslovak-Sudeten German problem Europe's two greatest potential war threats would be removed and the avenue paved for a possible understanding with Hitler.

A Canadian Press dispatch from London today said that in the Prime Minister's new approach to the Spanish problem it was felt the first step toward a truce and conference must be cessation of the air bombing of open towns with the slaughter of civilians. In Tuesday's air raid on the Catalan market town of Granollers 500 were killed and wounded, of whom it is estimated 85 per cent were women and children. The British and French governments made parallel protests.

One obstacle was removed today when Russia, receding from her previous position, agreed to the British plan for withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain on condition that "effective sea control" be enforced.

Samuel Kagan, Russian member of the nonintervention subcommittee, announced this concession, but added "the Soviet government must reiterate its proposal that international observers be permanently stationed in Spanish ports."

(Italian and German aid reaches the Spanish insurgents by sea.)

CZECH PROBLEM

Direct negotiations with Germany are unlikely to prove effective till the dispute with Czechoslovakia is settled, according to the Canadian Press.

Difficulties also have arisen over the service of Austrian loans. Anglo-German negotiations in Berlin failed to get anywhere and remain suspended till after the Whitsuntide holidays.

Rumors circulate that Germany, if pressed unduly, may also default on the Young and Dawes loans.

Financial interests are urging that if Germany defaults Great Britain should retaliate by bringing into operation the act passed four years ago to create a debts clearing office and provide for imports restrictions reprisals.

STATEMENT SOON

PARIS (AP)—Possibility of mediation by outside powers in the Spanish civil war was admitted today by Jose Aguirre, former president of the Basque Republic, who arrived in Paris from Barcelona.

Aguirre, driven from his Basque homeland when the insurgents captured Bilbao and Santander last June and July, said he expected to have a statement on the matter "within five or six days."

This followed a conference between Aguirre and Batista Roca and Rubio Tuburi, respectively London and Paris representatives of the Generality of Catalonia (administrative organ for autonomous Catalonia, not the Spanish government, which also has headquarters at Barcelona).

(The Basque Republic was an autonomous ally of the Spanish government, as Catalonia is today.)

Air Fares To Be Six Cents Mile

Basic Trans-Canada Charges to Range Up From 5½, Manufacturers Told

OTTAWA (CP)—The basic passenger fare on the Trans-Canada Airlines will be between 5½ and 6 cents a mile, Philip G. Johnson, vice-president in charge of operations of the lines, today told the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at its annual meeting here.

He said particular care was being taken with the weather reporting service and it would be on a par with any in the world. A fleet of 15 planes would be needed to maintain schedules.

Means must be found to overcome fading of radio caused by the northern lights, he said. There were also radio communication difficulties caused by instruments used in hospitals and by doctors.

Mountain flying was considerably less hazardous on the trans-Canada route than on the United States lines, said Mr. Johnson. The flight over the Rocky Mountain area would take two hours and 20 minutes. Pilots would keep to an altitude of 12,000 feet during that time and the planes would have instruments for constant recording of altitude so each flight might be checked.

A questioner asked if there were any accurate figures on the percentage of fatalities in air passenger service in comparison with other forms of transport. Mr. Johnson said he believed that in the United States there was one fatality for every 2,000,000 passenger miles, that being an average for the past few years.

Woman Delayed In Czechoslovakia

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Czechoslovakia authorities explained today the five-hour detention of Miss Unity Freeman-Mitford, daughter of Lord Redesdale of England and a friend of Chancellor Adolph Hitler, was but a part of the routine inspection of all travelers passing through military defence zones.

Miss Freeman-Mitford was stopped yesterday when she drove through a military protection area en route to Karlovy Vary.

GERMAN CHARGES

BERLIN (AP)—Fresh reports of "atrocities" by Czechoslovak soldiers in Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German area were featured on front pages of Berlin newspapers today.

German sources said a German named Joseph Schnepf was kicked by Czechoslovak soldiers at Maehrisch-Schoenberg because he wore white stockings, part of the insignia of Konrad Henlein's Sudeten German Party.

SOLITAIRE LOSS

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—William Bauman reported to police today he had lost $1,700 playing solitaire. He was alone with the $1,700 and a deck of cards in a room over his tavern last night when a gunman entered. The robber left Bauman alone with the deck of cards.

Training Pilot Killed in Crash

CAMP BORDEN, Ont. (CP)—Pilot Officer F. Birks, 27, Montreal, was killed today when the training airplane he was flying solo crashed into a field six miles south of Camp Borden.

A court of inquiry was set up by officers from the Camp Borden station of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Birks was not a member of the permanent force, but had come here only a few days ago for summer training.

In the case of a senior high school (grades 10 to 12) with three or more teachers having an academic certificate, and a high school (grades 9 to 12) with four or more teachers holding academic certificates, a pupil certified by the principal to have a standing of A, B, or C plus in a subject may be given university entrance standing. A means outstanding or excellent, B very good and C plus a high average.

High schools with only three teachers may be accredited if they have outstanding merit.

Principals have to certify that regulations on time allotments for courses, study periods and health and physical education have been carefully observed.

In the larger high schools, the number of recommendations is limited to 40 per cent. In smaller high schools the recommendations depend on the standing according to A, B, and C plus grades.

Principal Harry Smith of Victoria High School explained this morning that out of 130 matriculation students at the school about 15 or 20 would be recommended in all subjects. Numerous others would write one, two or more papers. There were very few students who were not certified in at least one subject, he said.

Each subject in the curriculum is treated separately, he explained. Thus 40 per cent of the students taking history can be certified, 40 per cent in mathematics, 40 per cent in English literature, and so forth.

Mr. Smith said in some subjects class examinations have been held to determine the standing for recommendation.

As far as the Department of Education is concerned, the accrediting means less cost in conducting the yearly examinations. Fewer examiners will be required with less students writing.

New Factories In Eire Planned

DUBLIN (CP-Havas)—An ambitious program of factory-building, slum-clearing and other measures to promote prosperity is outlined by the Fianna Fail—Prime Minister de Valera's party—in an election manifesto.

Mr. de Valera and Sean O'Grady, Parliamentary Secretary to Ministry for Lands, were selected Wednesday by the Fianna Fail convention in Ennis, County Clare, to contest the Clare constituency.

The manifesto, issued last night, declared "enactment by the Irish people of a constitutional, financial and trade agreement with Great Britain and the development of our government's economic policy gives the nation a new strength."

The manifesto then lists a series of proposed government projects, including construction of 200 new factories to give employment to 25,000 additional workers.

Dr. D. MacOdrum New Moderator

Ontario Pastor Heads Presbyterian Church in Canada

TORONTO (CP) — Rev. Dr. Donald MacOdrum of Brockville, Ont., will serve as moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada for a year. He was elected on the second ballot at the 64th annual general assembly here last night.

Five commissioners were nominated for the office—Rev. Peter Reith, Tara, Ont.; Dr. MacOdrum, Rev. William MacKay, superintendent of home missions in northern Ontario and Manitoba; Rev. Dr. Stuart C. Parker, Toronto, and Rev. Samuel Farley, Regina.

Mr. MacKay and Mr. Farley withdrew before the balloting began. Mr. Reith was dropped on the first ballot.

Dr. MacOdrum, a native of Cape Breton, was nominated by Rev. J. R. Graham of Sherbrooke, Que.; Mr. Farley withdrew in favor of Dr. MacOdrum. In announcing his withdrawal, Mr. Farley recalled he and Mr. Graham were classmates at Edinburgh University and that when he came to Canada his first "senior" was Dr. MacOdrum. With Mr. Farley's support, Dr. MacOdrum's election was without incident.

Dr. MacOdrum was educated at Sydney Academy, Picton Academy, Dalhousie University and Pine Hill Theological college, Halifax. After his ordination in 1899, he was called to his home church, St. Columba.

Dr. Hugh Munroe, New Glasgow, N.S., the retiring moderator, preached the sermon as the assembly opened in Calvin Church last night.

Recommendations for the appointment of two officials to carry on the secretarial duties of the church's missionary work are embodied in the report of the General Board of Missions.

Rev. Dr. W. A. Cameron, Central Church, Vancouver, is named by the board for the post of home missions secretary with Rev. A. A. Lowther to take charge of foreign missions. Mr. Lowther has been attached to the church's staff in India for some years, but at present is on sick leave in Australia.

The board has agreed to cooperate with the Saskatchewan synod in making a survey of northern Saskatchewan with a view to formulating definite plans to minister to the large number of families moving into the district.

The board recommends no change in present scale of salaries for different foreign fields, but proposes the maximum salary, including all allowances, be fixed at $2,600 a year. "It would be noted," the report says, "that the board is not responsible for the payment of income taxes."

MINING TRAIL VOTE LISTED

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Resources, has announced tentative allocation of the $1,300,000 vote included in the supplementary estimates to assist the provinces in improving transportation into mining areas.

The proposed allotments follow: Nova Scotia, $25,000; Quebec, $250,000; Ontario, $250,000; Manitoba, $225,000; Saskatchewan, $125,000; Alberta, $50,000; British Columbia, $240,000; Northwest Territories and the Yukon, $93,000.

Federal Income Tax Total Is Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Revenue, announced today income tax revenues received during May totaled $77,600,453, an increase over May, 1937, of $12,169,410.

For April and May, first two months of the present fiscal year, net collections were $96,733,307, an increase over the corresponding period last year of $20,164,333.

For the two months' period, the Toronto district led all others, with $34,359,865, an increase of $7,204,357. Montreal was second with $26,003,615, an increase of $5,077,413. The Ottawa district collected $4,705,718, an increase of $939,254, and the Vancouver-Victoria district reported $3,619,508, an increase of $1,994,298.

Man Is Held On Canoe Charge

VANCOUVER (CP)—Claridge Moorehouse, who told interviewers on arrival here that he had paddled a canoe from Zeballos on the west coast of Vancouver Island to Vancouver, was arrested late yesterday by British Columbia Police.

Moorehouse, who was accompanied by his wife and small child on the 500-mile trip, was arrested on a charge of theft of the canoe in which he said he made the voyage. He had planned to paddle the craft back to his home in Nova Scotia.

He will be returned to Banfield, B.C., west coast Vancouver Island town, where the information against Moorehouse was laid.

Wage Act May Cost 200 Jobs

CALGARY (CP) — Alberta's Minimum Wage Act may deprive between 200 and 300 postmasters' assistants of employment, according to H. Morgan of Didsbury, president of the Alberta Branch of the Canadian Postmasters' Association.

"If the act is to be enforced it will mean laying off between 200 and 300 people in Alberta who are now working, learning an occupation and earning a small salary," he said in addressing the postmasters yesterday at their annual meeting.

Commons Votes Mail Contracts

For Land and Air Carriage in Year $8,052,000 Is Provided

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's rural free delivery of mails may be reorganized under the civil service, but it would mean heavy deficits in the Postoffice Department, according to Acting Postmasteer-Geeneral W. D. Euler.

A long series of recommendations from members of all parties in the House of Commons yesterday urged that mileage rates assuring adequate compensation be set up and patronage removed from selection of carriers. From several came the suggestion rural carriers be placed on the same basis as city postmen.

Mr. Euler, Trade Minister, acting in the place of Hon. J. C. Elliott, Postmaster-General, ill for several weeks, succeeded in getting all the postoffice estimates through without the long wrangle which customarily arises over these votes.

Mr. Euler told the House the government would consider the recommendations on behalf of the rural carriers carefully, but that branch of the service had always been a losing proposition and the schemes proposed would involve large deficits.

CLOSE BIDDING

It was the general feeling of those who spoke in the debate that rural carriers were underpaid, but that the fault was to a great extent their own. Many bidders, in their desperate anxiety to get the contracts, set the price so low they could not expect more than to pay expenses.

Main debate came on the item of $8,052,000 for land and air mail carriage, an increase of $950,000 over the previous year.

Some deficits were expected in the early operation of the Trans-Canada Airlines, which would have mail contracts, but the minister said the government did not expect any loss in this venture once it was well launched.

Mail is to be carried on the trans-Canada route at a rate of 60 cents a mile regardless of the quantity carried.

During the fiscal year 1937-38 air mail flown in Canada amounted to 1,260,090 pounds.

There was no probability of Atlantic air mail services being inaugurated this summer, Mr. Euler said, and he knew of no negotiations for a trans-Pacific service so far as Canada was concerned.

Mr. Euler told Howard Green, Conservative, Vancouver South, 1,260,909 pounds of mail had been carried over Canada by air in the fiscal years 1937-38.

B.C.-YUKON MAIL

He also said it had been decided to establish an air mail service from Vancouver to Fort St. John to connect with the service for Edmonton to the Yukon Territory rather than a direct route from Vancouver to the Yukon. The chief reason for the decision was the danger of flying along the coast through several mountainous areas.

RAILWAY CONTRACTS

Protest was voiced wth respect to the division of railway mail contracts as between the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific. The Canadian Pacific has received a larger share of this business and J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, questioned this.

Since the Canadian National was supported by the taxpayers, Mr. Woodsworth thought it should get all the business the Post Office Department could give it.

Mr. Euler explained the Canadian Pacific probably got the great share of business because of its ocean steamship service connections on both coasts and the fact that in western Canada it served the most popular districts.

Stored Wheat Volume Down

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian wheat in store for the week ended May 27 decreased 3,668,081 bushels from the previous week and 25,736,632 from the corresponding week a year ago, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports.

The amount in store was reported at 32,351,412 bushels against 36,019,493 the previous week and 58,088,044 for the week ended May 28, 1937. Canadian wheat in the United States totaled 661,000 bushels as against 688,000 and 7,267,368.

Appointments By Chamberlain

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain has divided among three outstanding civil servants the duties Sir Maurice Hankey will relinquish shortly to become a director of the Suez Canal Company.

The three posts, and their new occupants named yesterday, are: Secreary to the Cabinet, Edward Bridges; clerk of the Privy Council, Sir Rupert Howorth; secretary to the Committee of Imperial Defence, Colonel Hastings Ismay.

Sir Maurice held all these positions for a number of years, but has passed the age of 60, customary retirement age of senior government officials.

Mr. Bridges is a son of the late poet laureate, Robert Bridges, and has been a principal deputy secretary at the treasury.

Budget Speech At Ottawa Soon

Cabinet Loses Hope U.S. Trade Treaty Will Be Ready in Time

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet has about given up hope the United States-Canada trade agreement will be completed in time to be included in the budget this session, it was learned today. Date of the budget may be announced soon.

The draft treaty submitted to Canada by the United States for a St. Lawrence deep waterways development and beautification of Niagara Falls, made public Tuesday night, gave rise to conjectures on Parliament Hill that President Roosevelt might wish to tie this treaty up with the trade agreement, or at least make the consummation of the trade agreement contingent on the acceptance of the waterways pact.

A cabinet minister said he did not expect such a move. It would tie up the British-United States trade agreement as well as the Canadian agreement.

War Good for Business?

HOW GOOD IS WAR FOR BUSINESS? Well, for British Columbia's pulp and paper business it is not at all good. The struggle in the Orient is closing British Columbia's export pulp mills and part of her newspaper plants. Japan has been the chief market for our processed pulp. The Japanese use it as the raw material for their low-priced, low-quality rayon industry. Now with the cost of their war in China mounting, they are running short of cash. They offer to pay for our products in Japanese bonds or notes. But as our pulp mills cannot realize on these in order to pay wages, salaries and other operating costs, all that is left is to close down.

Our newsprint mills, which have built up a paper export business to the Orient, are similarly affected. Oriental export business has accounted for such a large proportion of their trade, that its loss, plus a slightly lessened domestic consumption, has put these newsprint plants on half time.

It is true that war in the Orient provided us with a market in which we were able to turn our dumps of scrap iron into cash. War has also increased the demand temporarily for nickel and some other metals from our mines. But these passing gains cannot compensate for the destructive effects which will be felt over an extended period by such industries as the pulp and paper.

When we see it putting whole communities such as Port Alice out of work and substantial places like Powell River and Ocean Falls on half time, with all the loss this will entail to business in the larger B.C. centres, to government revenues and the cumulative effects of increased unemployment and relief costs, we lose all tolerance for those who continue to repeat that "what we need to pep up business is a good war."

Nationalized at Last

IN DECIDING TO NATIONALIZE THE Bank of Canada 100 per cent by buying in all the stock in the hands of the public, the Mackenzie King government at Ottawa is fulfilling an election pledge and correcting a mistake made by a previous administration.

When the bank was established in 1934, Mr. Bennett as Prime Minister declared it inadvisable to make it a publicly-owned institution. He has since recanted and has gone so far as to attack the present government for not hastening complete nationalization. Under the original Bennett set-up the stock of the bank was entirely in the public's hands. The King administration on taking office increased the bank's stock issue, so that by taking the additional stock the government gained control. It was criticized at the time for not going all the way. Now by acquiring at the market price the private holdings, nationalization will be completed.

The Vitamin Alphabet

HERE IS GOOD NEWS FOR THOSE who have given up hope of being able to learn the vitamin alphabet since it has outgrown the ABC stage and taken on not only more and more letters but numerals as well. The vitamin alphabet now shows signs of shrinking.

From a vitamin expert and professor at Yale University School of Medicine, however, Dr. George R. Cowgill, comes the news that many claims for the existence of new vitamins have been shown to be untenable. What appeared to be new vitamins were just extra quantities of some of the old familiar ones.

Dr. Cowgill cites the case of the vitamin B complex as an example. Originally there was just one vitamin B, found in rice polishings, whole grains and cereals and yeast. Lack of this vitamin caused the severe nerve disorder, beriberi, in man and a similar condition, polyneuritis, in fowl.

After the original discovery, scientists continued to study this vitamin, and the more they studied the longer grew the list of B vitamins. Finally there were vitamins B-1, B-2 (also called vitamin G by American scientists), B-3, B-4, B-5, B-6, and two more substances called filtrate factors. All of them were considered necessary for normal growth and each one was believed to have in addition certain special effects, or rather lack of each one was believed to result in separate nutritional disorders. It was all very confusing, and a special committee of scientists had to be set up to straighten out the matter of names alone.

Now, however, things are growing simpler. The chemical structure of vitamin B-1 is known and the vitamin is called either thiamin, its chemical name, or simply vitamin B. It is the beriberi preventative. B-2 turns out to be riboflavin, and instead of being a pellagra preventive is a preventive, Dr. Cowgill states, of a degeneration of the spinal cord. The special effects of B-3 and B-4 are now known to be due, according to Dr. Cowgill, to a larger supply of B-1. The effect of B-2, noted in pigeons, has been explained on other grounds.

Perhaps the ordinary mortal who uses common sense in his eating and drinking follows a temperate rule in all such matters, may be excused if he positively refuses to get his daily menu, or prescribed diet, all tangled up with the modern vitamin crowd.

Scope Should Be Widened

IN THE DISCUSSION REGARDING HOMEless single unemployed and Vancouver's predicament caused by their sit-down strike in public buildings, one of the most hopeful suggestions comes from the delegation of ministers who interviewed the provincial government. They suggested that greater service be made of the unemployment bureaus to place the men in jobs. While no doubt the bureaus are doing as much as they can with the means at their disposal, the time appears to have arrived when there should be an expansion to enable them to provide a greater service.

British Columbia has a far greater number of unemployed single men from other provinces than it should be fairly called upon to assume responsibility for. One can understand the attitude of those men when told in general terms there are better opportunities for work in the prairie provinces, where farm hands are needed. They may be of the opinion that to leave this province for another may be like jumping from the proverbial frying pan into the fire. The objective should be to prevent workers drifting aimlessly across the Dominion. From one place where there may be work, which they have been unsuccessful in finding, they move to another place where the prospects of securing employment are more remote.

Privately operated employment bureaus at one time were effective in placing men in jobs, although methods crept in which brought some of them into disrepute. With the co-operation of employers needing workers and workers needing jobs, government employment bureaus should be able to give a far greater service without those features which marred the operation of private employment bureaus.

En Garde, Kind Of—

THE LITTLE INCIDENT OF FRANCE'S dueling dramatists came out of Europe like the warble of a slightly touched lark rising above the noise of war. How heartening to be reminded that though most of the news from the continent these days concerns man in the mass and figures in the red, the French are still being French, and offence to the honor of an artist can still lead to crossed blades at dawn!

Well, not at dawn, exactly. The duelists, Messieurs Bourdet and Bernstein, both overslept and did not make the field of honor till noon. M. Bourdet fought in a black Homburg hat, M. Bernstein in a grey fedora. The slaughter was stopped when M. Bernstein pinked M. Bourdet in the arm.

All in all, it was a rather sad affair, as old-fashioned cutting matches go. But as a modern duel between two middle-aged Frenchmen, it was perfect.

CANADIAN LEGION'S RINGING CALL FOR UNITY

From Ottawa Journal

Heartening testimony that Canadian national unity is on the march against sectionalism came in the brief presented to the Rowell Commission by Col. C. B. Price, D.S.O., D.C.M., Dominion first vice-president of the Canadian Legion. In spirit and substance, as in its origin, it is a ringing call to the nation.

Assembled in Dominion convention at Fort William last January, the Canadian Legion looked into its charter, found written there:

"The Legion shall stand for loyalty to the reigning Sovereign, Canada and the British Empire, for maintenance of the foundation of the principles of the British constitution, for the development of national and united spirit and for ordered government in Canada."

The author of that declaration of faith perhaps never believed the Legion would be called upon to invoke it except by example and conduct. But these ex-service men who had fought for unity and democracy were compelled to note that things for which they fought were being challenged. Hence their declaration now:

"As we view the events of post-war years and realize how the lessons of those war years have been disregarded while sectionalism has developed, we are frankly disheartened and dismayed . . . and we hope that you may find it possible to make recommendations which will tend to strengthen the national government, with the provinces equitably provided for, and thus tend to the development of a nation with unity as its keynote and high morale as its inspiration and not a loosely-knit confederacy."

Nor is this Legion brief the work of a few officers and leaders. The views it expresses were unanimously approved by the provincial command in all of the nine provinces. The voice, therefore, is that of a great cross-section of the whole of Canada, a part of our people who proved their conception of patriotism and unity when proof called for the most that citizenship can offer.

MEDICINE

ALONG THE SHORE of our lake used to grow a fine young forest of cascara trees. They are sleek, grey trees providing excellent shade, but unhappily that ravenous animal, man, has discovered another use for them. He uses them to make a medicine familiar to every child. The result is that enterprising entrepreneurs have been going all over Vancouver Island and cutting down the cascara trees to remove their bark, which is sold for nine cents a pound.

No cascara tree is safe. The other day we came to our lake to find all the cascara trees in the bay cut and butchered before our very eyes. Some enterprising Oriental, knowing we never came around except at week-ends, had made a visit and earned himself a few dollars by wrecking our scenery and the growth of 50 years.

Farther down the lake an old gentleman had three cascara trees on his beach which were the joy of his life. It may seem queer to people who only know the medicinal properties of cascara to think of it as the joy of any old gentleman's life but there is no accounting for tastes. Anyway, the three beautiful cascaras were chopped down by the Oriental collectors and their bark removed, leaving nothing but the white skeletons. Soon, experts tell me, there will be no cascara left on this island and children the world over will be howling for their cascara. They will get no pity from the people at our lake.

MARINER'S TALE

AN OLD SEAFARING MAN approached me today and, like the ancient mariner in Coleridge's poem, held me with his glittering eye. He said he had seen horrid sights upon the sea in these parts. As he had originally discovered Cadborosaurus long before the newspapers heard of it, I steeled myself for a grisly tale. But what the ancient mariner has seen was far worse than a sea serpent. He said the town was being ruined by garbage.

He said so much garbage had swept in from the sea and became buried in the sand of Foul Bay Beach that he thought he would have to move away from there because he couldn't stand the smell. He said it was nonsense talking about Saanich drains polluting the Gorge waters, when every seafaring man knew that the incoming tide washed the city's garbage through the harbor and up the Arm. So long as the city dumps its garbage in the Straits, he said, it will continue to sweep back upon us, and he thought I ought to do something about it.

The old gentleman even had a copy of a city ordinance, passed in 1864 and still in force, which forbids anyone to drop garbage in the sea around Victoria, and now, he said, the city is breaking its own law.

I told him I had campaigned for years to secure the release of the Little White Bear. I pointed to my heroic failure on Pandora Avenue. I said that no cause I ever touched ever prospered, but was always lost, and I asked him why he thought I could do anything about his problem.

"Well," he said, thinking it over solemnly, "I thought garbage would be in your line." He was a nice friendly old mariner with a beautiful white beard.

It is to be observed, however, that one cause which I sponsored long ago, before it found any other defender, is rallying continent-wide support. The assistant mayor of New York and now the New Republic and other papers have started a crusade to stop the use of the word "contact" as a verb.

Long ago I raised a feeble voice against this monstrosity pointed out that ignorant people who used to meet each other now say they "contacted" each other, considering this a sign of high intelligence and culture; pointed out that salesman reported "contacting" some great executive even if they were merely kicked out of his office; pointed out that the word had a poisonous sound, as if in contacting someone you became infected with a horrid disease, as doctors talk about diptheria patients as "contacts."

Yes, long ago I pointed out that people no longer enjoy friendships or associations. Nowadays they have only "contacts," and a contact, of course, is acquired for the cold-blooded purpose of getting more business or getting a raise in pay.

Well, the campaign against "contacts" is now under way, but it will not succeed. The word will remain polluted for four or five years at least, until the public gets tired of it and finds some other phrase which will make it feel cultured.

Horoscope for today: Neptune is the big influence, indicating need of caution. People born today, if given too much respect or authority, will develop swell-head.

The final test of manners and poise is to have an unwelcome caller just as you drift into an afternoon nap.

TIPS ON BOARD SHIP

From Toronto Star

Traveling tourist-third the usual tip to dining-room steward is $2 and $1.25 to the bedroom steward. If the deck steward has brought many meals on deck he would be given the same as dining-room steward. If person is traveling cabin on large liner the tip to table steward would be $5; bedroom steward, $5. On slower, older boats, half that amount would be sufficient. A woman passenger would give stewardess $5 if she had a great deal of attention, otherwise the tip would be one-half. The bath steward would be satisfied with $1.25 and a man passenger would give the "boots" $1, though women passengers do not tip him at all. In second class a little less is expected. DOMINION DRAMA FESTIVAL

To the Editor: — Perhaps you will be good enough to publish the decisions made at a meeting of the governors of the D.D.F., held recently at Winnipeg in order that the organizations may make their arrangements at an early date:

1. Full length and short plays may both be entered.

2. Single acts or excerpts from long plays may not be entered as a short play.

3. Oriental teams entering must play in English or French and not in their native tongue, although it is much to be desired that they should play plays written by their own nationals and played in their natonal dress.

4. The finals will be held in London, Ont., on a date in April, 1939, to be decided later.

It was also decided by the local governors that the barring of the adjudicator from meeting the teams until after the regional contest should be discontinued and that British Columbia would fall into line with the rest of the regions on this subject.

This information will be circulated to the organizations in due course officially, but I publish it this early as I am convinced that amateur dramatic art has now reached such a high standard in Canada that hurriedly-decided-upon and insufficiently-rehearsed plays do not stand a dog's chance.

I am convinced that the recent triumph of "Hands Across the Sea," which placed British Columbia on the forefront of the regions was, apart from the skill of the producer and of the individual players, due to the excellent team work which could only be attained by hard work and frequent rehearsals.

The entrance fees and local rules will be about the same as for the 1938 contest.

WOULD CONSCRIPT THEM

To the Editor:—There are at the present time thousands of young men out of work. At the present time our country has no army of any account.

Why does our government not conscript those young men and enroll them in the military forces of Canada. No doubt Canada in the near future will have to contribute to the military forces of the Empire at large. Why give those young men relief vouchers and have them walking the streets in search of work? Why not enroll them in a Canadian army and give them military training?

WIDE VARIETY IN FESTIVAL

Plays of Contrasting Types Praised in Intermediate Drama Contest

Three performances of as widely different types as could be imagined won special praise from the adjudicator, Mrs. Yvonne Firkins of Vancouver, when intermediate plays were presented at yesterday afternoon's session of the British Columbia Drama Festival.

Mrs. Firkins did not announce the results in this class.

The three plays were a Chinese classic given in the traditional style by an almost exclusively Chinese cast, a fairy phantasy and a group of scenes from a Shakespearian play.

"It is really splendid to have an entry of this type. . . I think there are tremendous possibilities in it," said Mrs. Firkins of the Golden Dragon Theatre's presentation of "The Thrice-promised Bride," by Cheng-Chin Hsiung, an old Chinese classic.

Directed by Archie McCorkindale, the play was marked by superbly colorful setting and costumes and by the traditional formalistic movements of the Chinese stage.

John McLaren, who played the magistrate, won special praise from the adjudicator for his convincing performance. The other players, all Victoria Chinese, were May Lee, Daisy Lee, Rebecca Leung, Roy Ngai, Herbert Chan Dune, Bessie Hope, Ruth Lee, Dora Lowe, Leslie Wong and Bill Chow.

Miss Hope, who played the part of a professional matchmaker, was also singled out for special mention for her excellent entrance.

The only criticisms which Mrs. Firkins made were of the grouping of the setting, in which there was slight overcrowding, and the diction, which she said could be improved.

ENJOYABLE ACTING

"A very good performance and very enjoyable," Mrs. Firkins said of four scenes from Shakespeare's "As You Like It," by the Shamrock Players, directed by Marion J. Ord.

Clemency Ord, as Rosalind, was praised for the excellent way in which she spoke her lines, and Dorothy Davies, as Celia, for her good sense of rhythm and variety of tone.

Mrs. Firkins also commented on the colorful costumes and settings of the four scenes, in which the other players were Leslie Clark as Orlando and George Little as Duke Frederick.

SCHOOL ENTRY

"A delightful performance that went smoothly and attractively" was what the adjudicator had to say of the Esquimalt Elementary School's presentation of Percival Wilde's "The Dyspeptic Ogre," directed by Hugh Creelman, principal of the school.

The play, in which the actors seemed more of the junior than of the intermediate age group, was praised for the clear speech, poise and good entrances seen in it. Mrs. Firkins' chief criticism was of a tendency of the actors to shift their weight from one foot to the other while speaking their lines.

There was a large cast, headed by Ronald Clements as the ogre, Jean Maynard as the ogre's cook and Sally Frankham as Frances.

The other players were Gwen Hall, Rita Stewart, Irene Thomas, Daphne Finland, Betty Webb, Alys Sampson, Gloria Morgan, Clifford Pecknold, Raymond Douglas, Ivan Simmonds, Duncan McLaurin, Jack Kent-Fawkes, Richard Dunlop, James Buxton, Gordon Creed and Phillip Molloy.

GOOD TALENT SEEN

Carol Watson and Bill Moffat showd good talent as the husband and wife in "Porridge," presented by the Shamrock Players, Mrs. Firkins said. "They should go a long way," she commented. The other two actors were Joy Kirchner and Isabelle Brown.

The stage setting was criticized by Mrs. Firkins because all the furniture was closely grouped in the centre, giving an impression of overcrowding.

"Other Times Other Manners," by the Shamrock Players, was barred from marking in the festival because it ran two minutes short of the 20-minute minimum. The performances in this comedy of manners were charming, but the timing could have been better, said Mrs. Firkins. The second scene, which showed the modern counterpart of the first, set in the Victorian era, could have been faster, she said.

In this play also Mrs. Firkins criticized the setting for being concentrated at one end of the stage without any property or difference of lighting to break up the bare end.

The players were in the "then" scene Clemency Ord, Leslie Clarke and Roger Harris, and in the "now" scene Dorothy Davies, George Little and Clement H. N. Davies.

DRAMA TALKS START HERE

More Vital Interest in Stage Urged at Pacific Drama Conference

The aim of amateur dramatics should be to awaken a more vital and lasting interest in the drama among the public at large and young people in particular, Dr. Henrietta Anderson told the opening session of the Pacific Drama Conference in the Empress Hotel last night.

Speaking on "The Place of the Drama in Modern Education," Dr. Anderson deplored what she termed pathetic ignorance among young men and women who were starting in the field of teaching regarding the evolution of the drama and of English literature as a whole.

She urged her listeners to offset the motion picture craze among the majority of the public and help bring back, at least to some extent, the old love for the legitimate stage, which had now fallen into disrepute with most people.

Miss Kathleen Agnew was in the chair and Mayor Andrew McGavin was among those attending the meeting.

MAKE-UP DISPLAY

An interesting feature of the session was a talk by Mrs. Vivien Ramsey, Vancouver, on the art of make-up, which she illustrated with living models.

She stressed the importance of proper make-up as a detail of good dramatic production, and gave valuable suggestions for its execution.

The amateur drama movement from the point of view of a professional was discussed by Mrs. Sarah Truax Albert of Seattle, who has had many years of experience on the stage.

Mrs. Albert stressed the importance of good directing. She also spoke of the proper choice of plays for amateur work, discussing the handicaps imposed by royalties. She said those responsible for the present restrictions should give a proper explanation of the reasons.

In speaking of directing, Mrs. Albert said that "smearing over" points and highlights was one of the chief failings in amateur work.

LINE AND COLOR

Cleverly-drawn diagrams illustrated a talk by A. M. D. Fairbairn on the emotional significance of line, color, form, mass and balance in theatrical stage setting and in the grouping of players.

The first impression of a stage setting was particularly important because it set the tempo for a whole production, Mr. Fairbairn said.

The same definite rules should apply to a stage setting as to a picture, he claimed. A study of the psychological effect of color was also necessary, as was a knowledge of the emotional value of line.

Horizontal lines created an effect of calm placidity and serenity. Vertical lines suggested elevation, as in Gothic architecture. Diagonal and vertical lines in combination gave the impression of things out of balance. The most arresting line form, said Mr. Fairbairn, was the cross, which invariably directed the eye to its centre. Beauty, charm, softness of movement and energy were implied by curved lines.

Balance was especially necessary in stage settings, he continued, and the grouping of masses in a definite proportion should be emphasized.

Mr. Fairbairn suggested a diagram with movable properties as the easiest way in which a director could work out his stage settings.

Larrae H. Haydon of the Portland Civic Theatre, adjudicator of the senior classes in the British Columbia Drama Festival, spoke briefly of the organization and aims of his theatre. Miss Suzanne Marden, chairman of production of the Portland theatre, also gave a short talk.

The Play Directors' Conversazione will be held in the Empress Hotel tomorrow morning at 10, with W. B. Crawley in the chair.

On Saturday morning at 8.30 Dr. T. A. Rickard will preside at the annual Authors' Breakfast. The drama conference will continue at 10 Saturday morning with Sir Robert Holland in the chair.

Code Changes Hit Gambling Clubs

Recent amendments to the Criminal Code which empower police to deal with gambling houses where indirect "rake-offs" are taken in poker games will broaden police control of such places, Chief J. A. McLennan said yesterday.

Discussing the local situation in regard to gambling houses, the chief said it was not nearly as bad as in Vancouver, where the federal department of justice has described it as a "flourishing poker racket."

There was a handful of places in Victoria where poker was played regularly, the chief said, but in most instances it was difficult to secure evidence to prosecute.

REGRET DELAY IN LEADERSHIP

Regret that the provincial Conservative party contested the Dewdney by-election without a leader was expressed in a resolution of the Victoria Conservative Association executive last night. The result of the vote had proved correct the stand of the Victoria group that a leader should be appointed, it was stated.

The executive also went on record as opposed to the five Alberta tax bills and called on the Dominion Government to disallow them. The resolution will be forwarded to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, national Conservative leader.

Preparations were made for a meeting of the provincial executive here Saturday when the date of a provincial convention next fall probably will be fixed.

A meeting tonight of Young Conservatives at 8 in the Campbell Building was announced.

Would Bar Japanese Immigration

Women on Record as Favoring End of Gentleman's Agreement

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire were on record today as favoring termination of the "gentlemen's agreement" between Canada and Japan whereby about 150 Japanese are allowed to enter Canada and take up residence each year.

The resolution, introduced at the 38th annual convention of the order by British Columbia Provincial Chapter, was voted on at yesterday's session after final action had been delayed on Tuesday pending further information.

Captain MacGregor Macintosh, Conservative member of the British—Columbia Legislature for The Islands riding, spoke at yesterday morning's session, declaring Japanese population had increased from a few thousand in 1896 to 30,000 in 1938. There were 8,800 Japanese children in British Columbia schools, more than twice as many as in 1927.

"Not only does the gentlemen's agreement permit 150 Japanese to enter Canada in a year but they are allowed to bring in relatives," Captain Macintosh said. "We have reason to believe there is a good deal of illegal immigration as well."

The text of the resolution adopted read:

"Whereas the Japanese population in the province of British Columbia is increasing in alarming proportions in comparison to the white races;

"Whereas the Japanese standard of living is lower, thus creating unfavorable competition in the labor markets;

"Whereas the Japanese are the only Oriental race permitted to bring in women;

"Be it resolved that the I.O.D.E. petition the federal government to take steps to terminate what is known as the gentlemen's agreement with Japan."

COMMUNISM DEBATED

Delegates to the annual meeting today went into the concluding sessions equipped with the knowledge of what to do "when you find out a member of your chapter is a Communist."

The problem emerged from the "question box" at the administration conference on the work of the order last night.

In replying Mrs. W. Horkins of Toronto referred to the constitution, which said if the conduct of any member be questioned because of any act or conduct detrimental to the "peace, harmony and well-being" of the order it would be dealt with first by the chapter of which the person was a member.

It might then be referred to a committee of the national executive. After receiving sworn statements in writing the committee had power to dismiss the complaint, or suspend or cancel membership.

The "question box" also led to the preferred version of "O Canada." After three delegates stated their personal preferences for the anthem as written by Weir, Pilcher and Buchan, it was agreed that each chapter should choose its own version.

LEAGUE AND FLAG

In a late afternoon business session the delegates cleared the order paper of a number of resolutions.

A resolution asking removal of the League of Nations committee from the list of standing committees, and another urging other nations in the British Empire which use separate flags to adopt the Union Jack as their flag were defeated.

Delegates felt the latter matter was for nations concerned to decide themselves.

The resolution dealing with the League committee was submitted by Mrs. W. G. Lumbers of Toronto, who explained it "was not intended to disturb the national chapter's affiliation with the League." It was defeated by a three-to-one vote.

It appeared considerable confusion had arisen over the I.O.D.E.'s League of Nations work and many primary chapters were working directly through local League societies.

After Mrs. L. A. Genge of Victoria had read the report of the I.O.D.E. Girl Guides, the delegates resolved to prepare a scrapbook contest for the Guides, to offer an annual national prize for the best-written story, and to arrange for a five-minute story on some phase of I.O.D.E. work to be told monthly to Guide companies of the order.

ABERNETHY—PASSMORE

The marriage of Evelyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Passmore, Lizard Lake, Sask., and Mr. Archibald Abernethy, formerly of the Shetland Islands, took place quietly in the vestry of First United Church yesterday afternoon. Rev. W. G. Wilson conducted the service.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Col. F. D. Davidson, wore a gown of pale green satin with an Elizabethan collar and long pointed sleeves. Her veil was held to her head with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Miss Margaret Morford, the bridesmaid, wore a frock of yellow flowered silk and a wreath of flowers. She carried a Colonial posy. Mr. W. Nicolson was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held by Col. and Mrs. Davidson at their home on North Quadra Street, where a three-tier wedding cake centred the table which was decorated with tiny pink button-hole roses and streamers of fern.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Abernethy will make their home at Port Alberni. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit and white accessories.

Duncan Actors Are Champions

For its performance of "Ten Minutes by the Clock," by A. C. D. Riley, the Western School of Dancing, Duncan, was awarded the junior championship of the British Columbia Drama Festival by the adjudicator, Mrs. Yvonne Firkins of Vancouver, yesterday afternoon.

A cup presented by Premier T. D. Pattullo symbolizes the championship.

Mrs. Firkins admitted she had found it difficult to decide between this performance and another by a different team from the same school, which presented Rachel Field's "The Sentimental Scarecrow."

The plays in the junior section were heard on Tuesday afternoon, but the results were not announced until yesterday.

The second play was very close to the winner in actual marking, said Mrs. Firkins, but it was not quite so convincing.

The winning team also takes the cup presented by the Eldridge Entertainment House for the best play from Vancouver Island outside Greater Victoria.

BEST ACTRESS

The cup for the best individual actress in the junior section, presented by Dr. J. D. Hunter, was awarded by Mrs. Firkins to Ann Crowther for her performance as the scarecrow in "The Sentimental Scarecrow." The adjudicator praised the young actress for creating a delightful and varied characterization while remaining motionless on the stage for a period of 16 minutes.

Special mention was given to Mary Paterson, who played Joan in the Junior Shamrock Players' presentation of "Darby and Joan"; Pat McClement as the goblin in "The Good Goblin" by the same team; Margaret Hodson as Mrs. Winkle in "The Good Goblin," and Susan Anketell-Jones as Pom-pom, the butler, in "Ten Minutes by the Clock."

CANNOT SAVE UP HOLIDAYS

Teachers of Saanich schools will not be permitted to accumulate their annual sick leave over a period of years, the Saanich School Board decided last night in adhering to its policy of former years.

The board received from a member of the staff a request to have holidays accumulate.

The School Act permits 10 days a year sick leave with pay, and if this time was allowed to accumulate the board was informed it would mean a teacher could save up a month or more holiday, which could then be taken with pay.

Trustees Leslie H. Passmore and Stanley F. Miles observed that the 10 days' sick leave in the act was for the protection and consideration of teachers in case of illness, and not intended to provide them with holidays with pay.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of Belmont Avenue United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Webber, 1925 Stanley Avenue. The president, Mrs. W. Emery, was in the chair, and 18 members answered the roll. The visiting committee reported nine calls made. Arrangements were made to hold the ladies' annual picnic at the Gorge on Tuesday, June 14. Next month's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. S. McGowan, 2662 Forbes Street.

What lies on the other side of the moon has never been seen by man.

Canadian Six-Year-Old Makes Party Candies!

LITTLE MISS MABEL VERNAY, recently amazed friends with her creamy-smooth fondant, made without any cooking! "It's an Eagle Brand magic recipe," explained her mother, "failure-proof, and so inexpensive. Let your little girl try it."

MAGIC FONDANT CANDIES

Cream candies anyone can make, and everyone will like.

¼ cup Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk* — ½ teaspoon flavouring — 1⅔ cups sifted icing sugar

Blend Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk and vanilla or other flavouring. Add icing sugar gradually, mixing with fork until smooth and creamy. If desired, knead in pure food colouring to tint delicately; or add chopped nut meats, maraschino cherries, candied ginger, etc. Shape as small balls, cylinders or patties. Coat with shredded coconut, chopped nut meats (toasted, when suitable), decorettes; or garnish with nut meat halves, drained maraschino cherries (halves or slices), etc. Or use to stuff dates, prunes or figs. Chill on buttered pan or wax paper until fondant is firm. Candies may be chocolate-dipped, if desired. The ideal thing for party-sweets and gift boxes.

GOODYEAR

TIRE

● Well over half of all the automobiles, made in Canada, in the past three years use this size tire. Have you 600 x 16's on your car? Do you now need one or more new tires? If so, remember this . . . Goodyear makes eight different types of this popular size tire . . . at a price range to suit every purse! For example: just look at this tread print of Goodyear's famous "G-3" All-Weather 600 x 16 tire. See how that wide, heavy tread rides on the road . . . look at those large non-skid diamonds . . . the wide riding ribs . . . the narrow grooves.

The wide centre-traction tread provides more grip . . . for quicker starts . . . faster stops . . . with safety! Inside this famous tire you get the exclusive Goodyear Supertwist cord construction in every ply . . . plus the extra protection of two cord breaker strips under the tread. Like all Goodyears it is "tops" in its price class. Drive in and see your Goodyear dealer today . . . he has your tire . . . at the price you want to pay!

You get extra value in Goodyear's heavy duty tires. They provide 50% greater body thickness at only 25% higher cost than standard tires. Both, Goodyear's famous "G-3" and the lower-priced "R-1" are made in heavy duty 6-ply, as well as standard 4-ply.

MARKET LAW FACING TEST

B.C. Legislation Before Privy Council This Month in London

British Columbia's marketing control law will face its supreme legal test before the judicial committee of Britain's Privy Council late this month, according to advices received by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

Mr. Wismer was informed the appeal taken by independent milk interests against the British Columbia Court of Appeal's decision on the act will come up for hearing about June 28.

The Attorney - General said Wendell Farris, K.C., of Vancouver, and Wilfred Barton, K.C., of London, have been briefed as associate counsel for the province. D. N. Hossie, K.C., represents the appellants.

The appeal is against a reference decision by the B.C. Appeal Court which declared the act intra vires. Independent milk interests are attempting to upset this view, and, by consent, the appeal was short-cutted to the Privy Council so that an early final decision could be obtained.

In the meantime controlled marketing operations in the province remain pretty well in status quo. Since notice of the appeal was given little attempt has been made to widen any of the existing schemes or to start new ones.

Today, by order-in-council, the government granted a postponement until the fall, of elections of two marketing boards, the B.C. Coast Vegetable and B.C. Interior Vegetables schemes. Existing board members will serve in the interim.

"But, being a cow, I must admit that Borden's are the best judges of good milk in the world. No wonder their evaporated milk is so good for you people."

Just taste it! You'll say St. Charles has the natural flavour of extra rich, extra fresh cream. That's why it makes the grandest, creamiest cup of coffee or tea you ever enjoyed! That's why it adds such a delicious quality to your cooking. It's unsweetened. Always ask your grocer for Borden's St. Charles Milk.

"Our guests are always complimenting us on the way we serve potatoes but the wife says it's because she creams them with St. Charles Evaporated Milk. She seems to use it for everything."

"She's so healthy! And doctors say it's due to proper feeding on Borden's St. Charles Milk. She certainly has thrived on it. That's why I'm convinced it's better for all the family. And besides, my doctor says St. Charles is irradiated for extra sunshine Vitamin D."

By PETE SALLAWAY

NEW YORK YANKEES were going so badly on June 1, 1925, that the late Miller Huggins benched the veteran Wally Pipp, and ordered Lou Gehrig to take over first base. Gehrig, the Iron Man, has been there ever since. On Tuesday he played his 2,000th consecutive game, which is only one of a number of amazing records compiled by the remarkable product of the sidewalks of New York.

Gehrig has suffered from lumbago during his long streak of steady duty. He has had rheumatic trouble, which seems chronic. He has had broken fingers; had one last season. He has had broken toes. He has played in bandages and splints, plasters and braces.

In 1932 Gehrig was hit on the head by Earl Whitehill in Detroit. It was a close call, but the old Iron Man was back in there the next day. In 1935 Gehrig was struck on the head by Ray White in an exhibition game at Norfolk, Va. He was rushed to a hospital and at one time was reported dead.

But the next day the Washington Senators discovered that the report was grossly exaggerated Gehrig belted out three straight triples only to lose credit for them as the game was called in the fourth inning on account of bad weather.

Latest challenge to the perpetuation of Gehrig's consecutive game streak finds him snorting defiance at a lame back, and laughing at the suggestion that his precious record is about to be broken. He says he will beat this latest attack of lumbago, or whatever it is, and go right on playing just as he beat other backaches and headaches and remained in the game.

After all, the Yanks would not be the Yankees unless Gehrig went right on playing. Indeed, Lou grows a mite touchy about what he suspects are reflections on his durability. He belittles the recurrence of the back ailment from which he has suffered for years.

"The less said about it the better," asserts Lou. Nevertheless it cannot be kept secret that the ailment which, in 1934, came closest to ending his streak, bobbed up swiftly and without warning in Cleveland the other day, to strike him hard again. He had to quit in the sixth innings and have the club doctor go to work on him.

The attack gripped Gehrig just after he had poled a mighty blow to right centre on which he made second base with painful and labored effort. Hobbling to first base, rounding the bag and lumbering along to second, Gehrig appeared to have pulled a charley horse. He was bent over and gripping his right thigh as he ran.

With dogged determination, he finished the inning, scored on Bill Knickerbocker's single, and then quit in favor of Babe Dahlgren. Later Gehrig explained that he had to hold his thigh while running to keep from falling. When he gets these attacks they take his breath away, and he has sharp pains through the small of his back. He cannot straighten up, but he nettles when someone suggests he has lumbago or something else that is chronic.

Just the same, the opinion of those closest to Lou is that he has some sort of ailment which is different from any common cold. And it will take an uncommon ailment to get him out of the New York lineup. He is more proud of that endurance record than any of his remarkable batting feats.

New Welterweight Champ Has Big Following; Fights Ambers July 26

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Armstrong devoted an hour to giving Barney Ross one of the most unmerciful beatings ever meted out to a champion and then spent hours trying to raise Barney on the telephone to ask how he was feeling.

Henry must have known yesterday how Barney felt, because it was no secret Barney's face was terribly swollen and that he was grieving for his lost welterweight title. But it was typical of Armstrong, friendly little negro, that he would want to say he was sorry.

Even should he add the lightweight crown to his title collection when he meets champion Louis Ambers July 26, there is not likely to be a popular demand for a "white hope" to knock Henry's ears down. He is such an amazing fighter and wears his laurels so modestly his popularity is likely to increase with every scrap.

HAS WIFE AND CHILD

At 25, he is a solid family man, with a wife and child and a home in Los Angeles. He sings in his church choir every Sunday when he is at home.

Nobody around here has seen him excited or heard him lift his voice. He speaks almost flawless English and is approximately five times as intelligent as his noted friend, Joe Louis.

While training for the Ross fight he dashed off several portions of free verse that were much better than might be expected. One of them was published. Ten minutes before he entered the ring with Ross, Henry was found propped on a rubbing table reading an amusement page. "I see where George Raft's new picture opens tomorrow," he said to his manager, Eddie Mead. "I must see that."

He shows no symptoms of getting any larger than he is right now—133 pounds, and it looks as though he will be able to shuttle back and fourth between the featherweights and welterweights as long as he wishes.

HEARTS WIN SOCCER GAME

Defeat Brentford 1 to 0 in Empire Tournament at Glasgow

GLASGOW — Hearts defeated Brentford 1 to 0 in the concluding first-round match of the Empire Exhibition soccer tournament before 20,000 spectators at Ibrox Stadium here last night. Three Scottish and one English team will now play in the semi-finals of the competition.

The first game in the penultimate round brings together Hearts and Celtic, June 3. Three days later Aberdeen will meet Everton, the only English survivor.

Briscoe scored the match-winning goal for the Edinburgh team after 25 minutes' play. Brentford retaliated strongly in the second half and although dominating the game was unable to break through Hearts' defence.

First half play was hard and minor injuries frequent. Holkins, Brentford's outside right, was off the field for about 15 minutes On his return after the interval the Londoners took control of the game, Eastman performing brilliantly at inside-left.

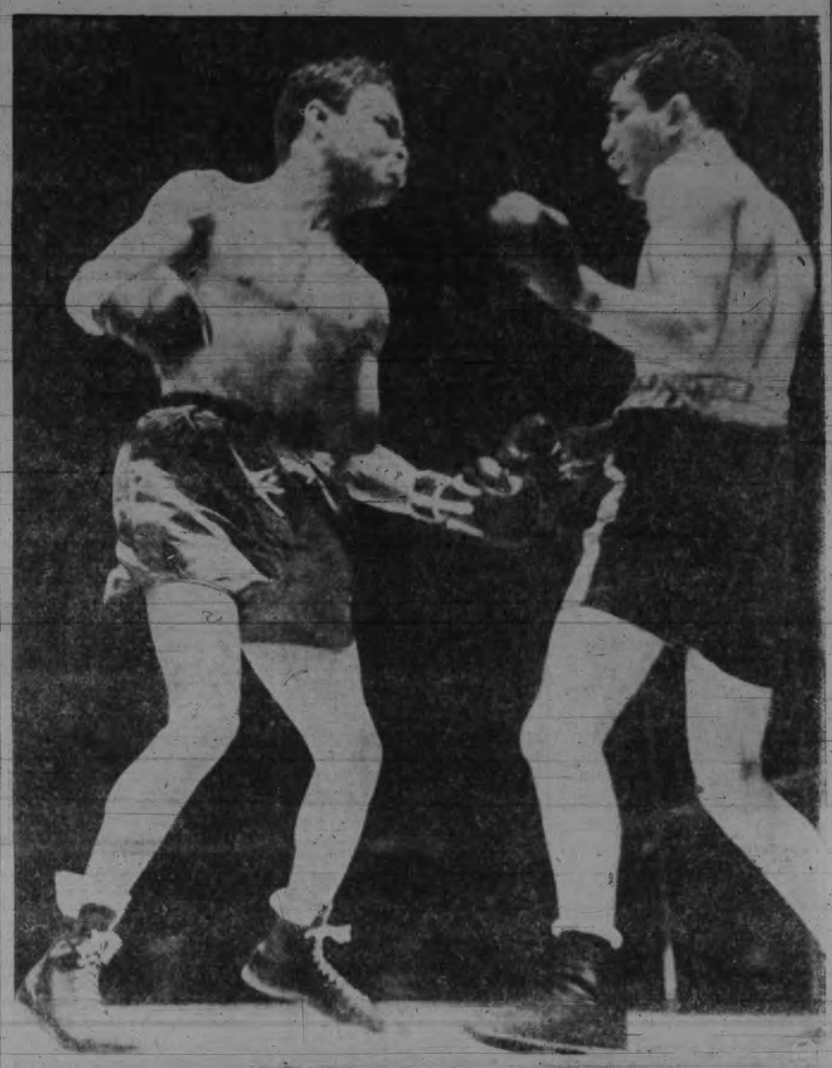
As Armstrong Won World Ring Title



First to arrive in Victoria, the above picture shows Barney Ross, on his way to becoming ex-welterweight boxing champion of the world, waiting open-mouthed for the next tiger pounce of grimacing Henry Armstrong in their 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden Bowl, Long Island, Tuesday night. Ross, defending the title he won from Jimmy McLarnin, was unable to stand up under the savage attack of the negro boy from Los Angeles who traveled at a terrific pace from start to finish.

Philadelphia A's Latest Surprise

Connie Mack's Lads Beat Cleveland 9 to 5 For Seven Wins in 10 Starts

They laughed when old Cornelius McGillicuddy hinted he might do something with his apathetic Philadelphia Athletics this season.

But they're laughing out of the other side of their faces now for the venerable Mr. McGillicuddy—he's the same old Connie Mack, of course—looks like he really might have something there in Philly. They have scored seven wins in their last 10 starts, the latest a 9 to 5 triumph they handed Cleveland's league-leading Indians yesterday.

Their record shows 75 runs on 103 hits in the last 11 games and even Bill Terry is looking enviously at that power. Even against their customary cousins, Pittsburgh Pirates, the National League leaders looked pretty sour yesterday as they dropped a 4 to 1 decision, with young Russ Bauers turning in a five-hitter.

Since the New York Yankees also lost yesterday, Cleveland's pacesetting margin remained at three full games. The Yanks found Vernon Kennedy's flinging too much and were belted around 8 to 4 by Detroit Tigers.

The St. Louis Cardinals featured homers by Ducky Medwick and Enos Slaughter in walloping the Phillies 9 to 4, and Johnny Vandermeer pitched a five-hitter to give Cincinnati Reds a 4 to 1 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers.

Joe Cronin's homer with two aboard was enough for Boston Red Sox to trounce St. Louis Browns 6 to 3. Washington Senators nosed out the Chicago White Sox 5 to 4.

COAST LEAGUE

Cy Slapnicka, general manager of the American League Cleveland Indians, realized today the Indians' young Bob Feller has some juvenile competition in the Coast League worthy of attention.

Slapnicka sat in the stands at Portland last night and watched 18-year-old Freddie Hutchinson, Seattle's hurling marvel put handcuffs on Portland Beavers and shut them out 6 to 0 for his eighth win of the season. He has lost three games.

Young Freddie, who received $2,500 bonds to sign with Seattle after turning down a big league offer "because the terms weren't right," did other things besides limit the Beavers to four hits and strike out nine. He had a perfect night at the plate. He got four for four, including a two bagger. He scored two runs, drove in another and galloped from first to third on a hit-and-run play.

Back from three weeks on the road, second place San Francisco Seals ganged up on an old teammate, Gene Lillard, last night for 11 hits to beat Los Angeles 8 to 5.

Two hits, one of them with the bases loaded, and a pair of walks gave Hollywood Stars a 4 to 3 win over Oakland.

LINSKOG WILL RACE AGAIN

Victoria auto racing fans will welcome the announcement that Swede Linskog, Seattle daredevil, will be back on Saturday to drive in the third meet of the season at the Langford Speedway.

Two weeks ago Linskog, who packs all the color in the world, including a mop of flaming red hair, made his first appearance on the local track and went over in a big way with the crowd. Linskog, although just a youngster, packs a world of experience, and really knows how to put on a show for the spectators. He is daring, takes the odd chance or two and can be counted on to give anybody a tough race.

Lew McMurty, Seattle driver who cracked up in the last meet, running into a light pole, will be back at the wheel of the car usually driven by Jimmy Symes.

In addition to the six United States cars on the track, there will be two or three Victoria machines.

Time trials will open the show at 7.45 with the first race 15 minutes later.

SAILORS TRIM COLWOOD 5 TO 3

Navy Hands B Section Softball Leaders First Defeat; Esquimalt, Liberals Win

Colwood Wood, leaders in the B section softball race, were handed their first setback in eight starts yesterday evening when the Navy nine trimmed them, 5 to 3, at Victoria West Park. It was a nip-and-tuck scramble and anybody's game right up to the close of the ninth.

The teams traveled through the first four innings to a 2 to 2 deadlock, but the sailors went two up when they sent a pair of runners around the bags in the fifth. In their half of this session the woodmen cut the lead to a single marker, but the navymen notched one more in the sixth and held their lead to the finish.

At Bullen Park, Esquimalt Athletic Club took the Emsco boys into camp 10 to 6. The stevedores set up a 5 to 0 lead in the first six sessions but Fat Whitfield went to pieces in the seventh and Esquimalt went to town, swatting his slants all over the lot. Whitfield was finally taken off the mound in favor of McCorkall, whose efforts to rescue the foundering Emsco gang were of no avail.

After building up a 3 to 0 lead earlier in the evening, Young Liberal batsmen smashed out enough knocks in the final three frames to send eight runners the distance and posted a 11 to 2 triumph over McIntyre and Harding at Reynolds Road. The Liberals accounted for a quartette of the final eight runs in the seventh. This was the third B game of the evening.

TACOMA — Two hard-hitting featherweights, Billy Buxton of Victoria, B.C., and Frankie Mandell, Santa Cruz, Cal., meet in the 10-round main event of a boxing card here tonight.

Paul Smith, Tacoma, and Truman Kennedy, Bellingham, are paired in the top six-rounder on the card.

BALL GAMES ON SATURDAY

Victoria All-stars Meet Twig Island in Double-header at Athletic Park

Victoria All-Stars will make their second start of the baseball season against mainland opposition, Saturday, at the Athletic Park, when they stack up against Twig Island, members of the Vancouver Senior Commercial League, in a doubleheader. The afternoon game will start at 2.30 and the evening attraction at 6.

Managed by Peggy Duff, former outfielder for the Vancouver Firemen, Twig Island will field a club composed for the greater part of up-and-coming young ball players, who last year toured California and played a number of exhibition games with American clubs. Playing Monday evening against Lowneys, Twig Island registered a 7 to 1 triumph. Victoria divided a holiday series with Lowneys, winning the afternoon engagement and dropping the evening tussle.

With a number of league games tucked away since the series on May 24, the locals feel confident of providing some real opposition for the mainlanders. Sonny Walker, who pitched the Victoria nine to victory in the matinee game, will be available for mound duty Saturday. Ray Maitland, big right-hander; Stan Davies, promising young local twirler; Woodward, southpaw flinger, will all be in uniform for Saturday's games.

Roy Barnes, former receiving ace, has been named manager, and Jerry Bell has been selected as coach.

James Builds Up Brilliant Record

Washington Jockey Gives Performance at Tanforan Seldom Equalled

SAN FRANCISCO — Skinny little Basil James, the baby-faced farm boy from Sunnyside, Wash., with the nerve of a lion tamer, has ridden back into the horse-racing headlines at a clip unequaled in California's modern turf history.

Not many performances of the past on any track will overshadow his feats at Tanforan, where on nine consecutive racing days beginning May 20 and ending on the 31st, he rode three or more winners daily for a total of 31. Six were triples, two of the quadruple variety and five on the final day of the sensational streak.

Earlier in the meeting he led six mounts into the winner's circle in a single day, equaling the achievement of his keenest western rival, Johnny Adams, who had ridden half a dozen in one afternoon in the meeting at Bay Meadows this spring.

WAS CHAMP IN 1936

James won the American riding championship in 1936 with 245 winners. Late last year at Santa Anita he was suspended for six months for grabbing the saddle cloth of another horse.

When he poked his feet back into the stirrups it was about the middle of the Bay Meadows season. He rode 12 winners there. At Tanforan he really started going to town.

Although they battle tooth and nail on the track, James and Adams are the closest of friends.

James will ride Grim Reaper in the $15,000 added Marchbank Handicap concluding the meeting Saturday. Adams was forced to withdraw yesterday following a recent shoulder injury.

Foursomes To Open Series

Pairings Announced For Four Matches at St. Andrews Tomorrow

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) —Pairings for foursomes competition in the 10th Walker Cup golf series between the United States and Great Britain were announced today by the rival captains, Francis Ouimet and John Beck.

The four foursomes matches, to be played tomorrow, follow: Johnny Fischer and Charles Kocsis of the United States vs. Harry Bentley of England and Jimmy Bruen of Ireland.

Johnny Goodman and Marvin Ward of the United States vs. Gordon Peters and Hector Thomson of Scotland.

Charles Yates and Ray Billows of the United States vs. Alex Kyle of Scotland and Charlie Stowe of England.

Reynolds Smith and Freddie Haas of the United States vs. Frank Pennink and Leonard Crawley of England.

Eight singles matches Saturday will complete the series in which the United States has won all nine previous competitions.

A howling wind and cold weather prevented both squads from practicing today.

TWO RECORDS ARE BROKEN

High School Athletes Better Marks as Eliminations Staged

Bright Ideas FOR YOUR VACATION

Parksville Is Well Known Summer Resort

A Charming Townsite, Safe Beach, Warm Bathing

Vancouver Island offers the visitor a natural wonderland of woods, lakes, streams, rugged mountains and white sandy beaches. There are resorts far away from the highways where one may climb and fish and swim in solitude, or there is a smiling countryside where one may relax and forget the cares of the day.

Parksville, right on the Island Highway at the junction of the great Alberni Road, is a smiling countryside. Green fields and tall trees, safe beaches and modern up-to-date auto camps make it one of the most interesting summer communities on the island. There is a little townsite with a bank, a tearoom and several modern stores. There is a hotel, several auto camps and numerous modern cottages for rent by the day, week or month. Just beyond the village there is a quiet country church, built of logs . . one of the oldest churches on the coast.

CENTRE OF NATURAL WONDERLAND

Parksville is a perfect place for the vacationist to make his headquarters while exploring the northern beauty spots of the island. Situated, as it is, at the junction of the Alberni Road, it is easy to visit such well known spots as Little Qualicum and Stamp Falls, Mount Arrowsmith, Cameron Lake . . . and going further . . . Cathedral Grove. Beyond this again, following the highway to Alberni, there is beautiful Sproat Lake. From Parksville north on the Island Highway are Qualicum, the Forbidden Plateau, Comox and Campbell River.

Parksville has a safe, sandy shoreline that makes it a wonderful place for children as well as a fascinating spot to swim or laze on the beach. The fishing is good, not only directly out from the townsite, but up and down the coast from Nanoose to Comox spit.

MODERN AUTO CAMPS

At Parksville accommodation of every type is available . . . hotel, modern auto camp or cottages. Wing's Parksville auto camp is perhaps the outstanding camp in the village. Completed just three years ago, it combines everything that is modern and up-to-date, with the charm and beauty of a well-wooded acreage right above the beach. There are excellently furnished cottages with electric light and running water, showers and all sanitary conveniences. There is a laundry room with an electric washer for the use of guests. The cottages all have comfortable beds and are well supplied with dishes, cutlery, pots and pans. The camp is open all year. There is an excellent beach . . . and Mr. Wing even has accommodation for trailers.

A delightful auto camp situated on the beach is Harrison's Parksville Beach Camp. In a grassy acreage, dotted with great trees and extending right to the shore, are the comfortable cabins, well built and clean! There is a safe beach for children . . . warm bathing and boats for the older people. Mrs. Harrison's camp is well known to many, who return to it every season.

COTTAGES FOR RENT

Cottages that rent by the month or season are favored by many vacationists who stay at Parksville. E. Gill has a number of these places in advantageous spots along the shore. They are all modern and up-to-the-minute in every way, with shaded grounds and private beaches. Mr. Gill also has boats for fishermen and a tennis court for those who wish to play.

Parksville is a thriving little community at all seasons of the year, but in the summer there is an added charm about it that attracts all who come to its gateway.

A New Auto Camp On Four Mile Hill

At the Four Mile Hill on the Island Highway, just outside Victoria, there is an interesting new auto camp that should attract many visitors who like the countryside, yet at the same time prefer to be near to the city.

The Greenwood Park Auto Camp is all new and clean. There are double and single cottages of cream stucco attractively trimmed with red and black. They are all self-contained, with hot and cold water, good showers and coolers. At the windows are dainty red checked curtains, and the furniture is well made and new.

J. Creighton, the owner of this new auto camp, has chosen his site very carefully. High on the hillside, in a large grove of tall firs, it presents a striking appearance from the roadside. Greenwood Auto Park should, indeed, become increasingly popular as the season progresses.

World Tourists Like Victoria

From Johannesburg, South Africa, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Vincent and their daughter, Rhona, are guests at the Empress Hotel while looking Victoria over. Mr. Vincent is a mining material merchant of Johannesburg and a director of the Rand gold mines. He and his family boarded the cruise liner Franconia at Durban, Natal, on a world tour. They visited Australia and New Zealand, but the nearest they got to the war zone in China was Hue, Indo-China. Cruise ships are not calling at Chinese or Japanese ports owing to hostilities in the Far East.

Delighted with their stay in Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent will shortly proceed via Banff, Chicago, Detroit, Toronto, Montreal and New York to London, where Miss Vincent will study art at the Chelsea Polytechnic.

INVESTITURE ON SUNDAY

Msgr. Ronald Beaton, V.G., to Be Honored on Appointment to High Church Post

By an Apostolic brief dated February 25 Pope Pius XI elevates Monsignor Ronald Beaton, V.G., to the rank of a domestic prelate. Msgr. Beaton's investiture will take place after the gospel of the pontifical mass in convention with the Eucharistic Congress on Sunday. It has been arranged that the new prelate will officiate with the purple for the first time at the open air benediction service the same day in Beacon Hill Park. After the pontifical mass the clergy will hold a dinner in his honor at the bishop's house, where an address will be read on their behalf by Rev. A. B. Wood of Queen of Peace Church, and a token of appreciation presented by Rev. C. E. Evans, M.A., of Campbell River.

Msgr. Beaton was born at Broad Cove, Inverness County, N.S., on December 3, 1874. Upon his graduation from St. Francis Xavier University, in 1897, he entered the propaganda at Rome in the fall of the same year and was ordained to the holy priesthood in St. John Lateran May 24, 1902. After serving as assistant in several parishes of Antigonish Diocese, he was appointed professor in St. Francis Xavier University, acting in this capacity from 1903 till 1909, when he became pastor of Georgeville, N.S. After four years there he went to the Diocese of Calgary, and in 1917 was invited to Victoria.

Rev. Patrick Beaton of Calgary, who died recently, was a brother of Msgr. Beaton and another outstanding missionary. Besides being diocesan administrator in 1934 and again in 1937, Msgr. Beaton has been vicar-general for many years. He is pastor of St. John the Baptist Church at Comox and chaplain of St. Joseph's Hospital there.

EX-SECRETARY TO STATE CASE

Saanich School Trustees Will Hear Robert Brydon Apply For Reinstatement

Robert Brydon, former secretary of the Saanich School Board, whose dismissal was responsible for the resignation of two trustees, will appear before the board shortly and state his case in support of an application for reinstatement.

The board last night received the application from Mr. Brydon and unanimously approved granting him the opportunity to state his case personally.

Mr. Brydon's letter stated he regretted if he had in the past taken upon himself duties not strictly secretarial, but would be willing to carry out his duties as instructed if reinstated.

When the letter was first presented, Trustee Nathaniel Gray said he had some observations to make in connection with it if the secretary pro tem and members of the press would withdraw. Members of the board agreed unanimously to exclude the press, and the chairman's remarks were made in private.

In a few moments the reporters and secretary were readmitted and informed by the chairman that the trustees had unanimously approved hearing Mr. Brydon's case.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

June 2, 1913
(From the Times Files)

Victoria is to have an aviation meet before the end of the month. Max Friedman arrived in the city this morning from San Francisco to arrange the details. It is proposed to stage a three-day met of daring contests at the Willows track, and such events as duration, passenger carrying, altitude, speed, quick steering, quick landing, low flying and a dead dive will be the menu provided. It is hoped that six machines will be brought and the novelty of seeing a number of machines in the air at the same time will no doubt appeal to the local sport-loving enthusiasts.

The harbor at Esquimalt presents a very busy appearance at the present time with a dozen vessels of all classes berthed there. Chief interest centres in the Karluk, which is to carry the Canadian Arctic expedition to its three and a half years' work in the frozen wastes.

Superior mounts helped greatly in Saturday's win of the Victoria Polo Club over the Duncan team, the Capital City quartette winning by six goals to five after a most exciting match.

The B.C.E. Railway Company street car returns for the month of May exceeds last year's corresponding month paid fares by well over 200,000. The number of passengers was 1,178,669.

"GUNGA DIN" IS SOUGHT HERE

Somewhere in Victoria there may be a youngster who could fit into the character of "Gunga Din," which is to be produced in Hollywood as an elaborate film production by RKO.

Edward Killy, talent scout for RKO, will search for such a character in Victoria.

He has been searching British Columbia for a "Gunga Din" for the new motion picture to be based on Rudyard Kipling's famous poem of the dusky boy "who'll be sitting on the coals, giving drink to poor damned souls".

In Vancouver Mr. Killy secured photographs of four boys and forwarded them to Hollywood, but he is doubtful if they will be suitable for the part.

"I am hoping to find better material in Victoria," he said.

"If I do," he said, "I shall return immediately to Hollywood as the search has already taken considerable time, and it is a difficult part to fill."

Alexander Kahle is with Mr. Killy taking pictures of candidates for submission to the film magnates of the movie colony.

The talent scouts have already made a wide search for a character for "Gunga Din," covering Mexico and the western United States, and hundreds of photographs have been taken.

"We are still hopeful," said Mr. Killy.

All-Defence Plan For New Zealand

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP-Reuters) — Prime Minister Michael Savage today told a deputation from the Defence League that in the event of war compulsion in New Zealand would not start with man-power.

He said that in the last war men were conscripted and that while they were dying others were enwealthed. That would not happen again under the Labor government, he promised.

The league urged that defence efforts should be stimulated, claiming there was disinclination on the part of youth to enlist.

Mr. Savage said the country intended to put its defences on a sound footing and provide proper allowances for those in training; as unemployment and enthusiasm for defence could not exist together.

NO CAHAN APPEAL

OTTAWA (CP)—Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff of the Supreme Court of Canada has dismissed the application of C. H. Cahan Jr. of Vancouver for leave to appeal to that court from his conviction for bank robbery, it was learned today. Cahan was represented by E. F. Newcome of Ottawa.

CRUSHED WHILE LOADING LOGS

Claude Dilley, Sooke, Believed to Have Fractured Pelvis in Accident Today

Claude Dilley, Sooke, is believed to have suffered a fractured pelvis when he was crushed between two logs on a loading platform at Muir Creek this morning.

He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital late this morning in the C. & C. ambulance after a speedy trip in response to an emergency call.

The accident occurred at the Elder Logging Company operations during the loading of logs.

Dr. E. M. Robertson of Sooke was summoned and after rendering preliminary assistance he accompanied the injured man in the ambulance.

At hospital here he was attended by Dr. Gordon Kenning.

Will Ship 275 Cars Of Berries

Prairies Will Buy Heavily From B.C.; Rain Is Badly Needed

Dump duty on imports of strawberries into Canada went into effect late yesterday to hold the Canadian market for Canadian growers.

Growers here said today there would be a plentiful supply of domestic berries by the first of next week, at the latest. A shipment of Washington berries, expected to be the last this season, came in from Seattle today over the dump duty to fill demands.

W. C. Kersey, manager of the Vancouver Island Co-operative, and Ben Dickey, head of the Canadian Fruit Distributors, last night in Vancouver completed their inspection tour of the island and lower mainland. In their report, they said:

Crop indications are that B.C. will ship east this season 275 cars of berries, including 22 to 25 cars from Victoria and the island.

Total in strawberries on Vancouver Island this year is 384 acres; with an estimated total production of 700 tons.

Salt Spring Island will ship 1,000 crates of strawberries this season, a new high record for that island, compared with the previous high, last year, of 600 crates.

Rain is needed on the island and lower mainland if the B.C. crop is not to lose ground.

First car of Early Dunlaps was shipped from Mission Wednesday night. Around Mission, in the Pitt Meadows district, rain is badly needed for the early varieties. Without rain within the next week, the Dunlaps will be gone.

In other parts of the mainland, as well as the island, the Dunlap and early varieties particularly need rain.

At Langley, Hammond, Whonnock, Ruskin, Haney, Mt. Lehman and Hatzic conditions are good for a large crop, provided there is early rain.

Italian Praise For Chamberlain

Ciano Strengthens Links With Germany While Approving British Pact

MILAN, Italy (CP-Havas)—In a speech reaffirming Italian solidarity with Germany and Japan, Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano today paid tribute to the "frankness and courage" of Prime Minister Chamberlain and hailed the Anglo-Italian accord as a great step forward toward European appeasement.

Count Ciano addressed the national congress for international political studies.

The Italian Foreign Minister recalled in especially warm terms the speech by Prime Minister Chamberlain in the House of Commons on April 16 when he presented there the agreements concluded with Italy.

"The words of the eminent statesman," he said, "found a profound echo in the Italian people, who interpreted them as testimony of the spirit in which Mr. Chamberlain and his collaborator, Lord Halifax, devoted themselves to their task of clarification and reconciliation.

"The Anglo-Italian accord has the merit of having cleared the ground of the residue of the past and placed the relations between the two empires on a basis of clarity and loyalty which alone can be the foundation for stable and solid understanding among nations."

Start Building Big Comox Home

Ground Broken For $30,000 Dwelling For Sir Ernest Petter

Work on the $30,000 residence of Sir Ernest Petter, on historic Siwash Hill, Comox, has been started with the breaking of ground early this week, H. Savage, architect for the old English type dwelling, announced today.

The home, a two-story structure, covering an area approximately 100x50 feet, will be built by Green Bros., Victoria contractors, with W. Pridham handling the plumbing contract, which includes a hot-water heating system.

The building will be finished externally in California stucco and cedar shakes, with stucco being used for interiors, with oak woodwork and an oak staircase.

Sir Ernest has chosen the name "The Fort" for his home, in recognition of the traditions of the ground on which it will be built. Adjoining property in the estate of the late Elinor Dunsmuir, the area was once a stronghold of the Indian tribe of the Comox locality. Many of the old ditches and other indications of the fort and lookout, built by the Indian, are still in evidence on the property.

A. E. Humphries, Auto Man, Dead

Well-known Citizen, Formerly of Lethbridge, Had Many Interests

LATE A. E. HUMPHRIES

Albert E. Humphries died shortly after 8 this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was in his 68th year.

Mr. Humphries came to Victoria from Lethbridge, Alberta, in 1921 and went into the motor business here. For some years he had the agency for Dodge cars. Later he was associated with Masters Motor Company.

At one time he was prominently connected with the Chamber of Commerce and he was an energetic worker in the Liberal Party.

He is survived by his widow at the family home at 948 Pandora Avenue; a daughter, Mrs. A. McIlvride, 2934 Orillia Street, and three sons, Arthur and Albert in Victoria and Frank in Vancouver.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but it is expected the service will be at the Thomson Funeral Home at 2.30 Saturday afternoon.

B.C. TO FORE IN HOUSING

"Since the Dominion Housing Act became operative two and a half years ago, 4,247 houses have been built by government loans, totaling in value $17,550,000," said F. W. Nicolls, director of housing, Department of Finance, Ottawa, who is in the city today to "see what can be done to improve things and stimulate a little activity" in construction under the Dominion Housing and Home Improvement Act.

"British Columbia is well to the fore in building development compared with other Canadian provinces. But Victoria is lagging behind," he said.

"In British Columbia, under the Housing Act," said Mr. Nicolls, "a total of 744 loans have been issued at a total value of $2,470,000, while in Victoria up to May 14 there have been but 28 loans totaling $105,648."

"Under the Home Improvement Act a total of 39,470 loans have been issued in the whole of Canada valued at $15,468,00, with 4,383 loans valued at $1,400,000 in British Columbia and 359 loans valued at $115,323 in Victoria."

Questioned about the proposal of the Dominion Government to finance the construction of houses in the low-rental class, Mr. Nicolls said this phase of housing was being brought before the federal House.

Limited dividend companies, he said, would build these houses under government loan and rent them out on completion at reasonable rentals.

Asked whether municipalities would be in a position to build houses on reverted lots under the scheme, Mr. Nicolls expressed the view that this might be done, but through limited dividend companies.

Mr. Nicolls, who is making his first visit to the coast, was met on arrival in the city by Col. Brooke Stephenson, chairman of the Victoria advisory council.

The housing director met members of the advisory council at luncheon today at the Union Club. Among those present were Col. Stephenson, G. Hamilton Harman, J. W. Ruggles, R. H. B. Ker, John Anderson and W. A. Paterson, members of the council; L. Scott, president of the Victoria Builders' Exchange; Major Max Kirkpatrick Crockett, city lands commissioner; C. Fred Dawson, architect for the Dominion Public Works, and Henry Whittaker, provincial public works architect, and R. J. Lecky, secretary of the provincial committee, Vancouver.

A dinner will be held in Spencer's dining room at 6 this evening, at which Mr. Nicolls will address members of the advisory council, Builders' Exchange and the Real Estate Board.

Hepburn Said To Bar Power Plans

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Hepburn alone stands in the way of the St. Lawrence Waterway development as a power project, T. Stewart Lyon, former chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, said today before the legislative committee inquiring into commission affairs.

Mr. Lyon, who resigned the chairmanship late last year at Mr. Hepburn's request, said he doubted, however, the St. Lawrence development by Canada and the United States would be delayed many years.

Mr. Lyon told the committee a 1937 power contract between the commission and the Ottawa Valley Company was the responsibility of the Ontario government.

BECK DUE HERE WEEK THURSDAY

R. W. Beck, public utilities engineer and expert for the city in its B.C. Electric franchise negotiations, is expected in Victoria on June 9.

A telegram indicating he would arrive on that date was received by Mayor McGavin this morning. On his way by plane from New York, Mr. Beck will stop at Chicago and in Nebraska.

According to present plans, Mr. Beck will remain here for two or three weeks, working intensively on the negotiations with the power company on the Goldstream plant question. The present agreement on the plant expires at the end of this month.

Freedom For U.S. Citizens In China

Japanese Also Agree to Restore Properties to Owners

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japan agreed today to meet almost all demands for restitution of United States property in China and for the right of unhindered return of Americans to their posts there.

In a note handed yesterday to the Japanese ambassador by Secretary of State Hull it was stated that "the problem of enabling American citizens in China to re-enter and repossess their properties from which they have been excluded by the Japanese military and of which the Japanese military have been and in some cases still are in occupation is giving the government of the United States increasing concern."

"It is difficult," Japan was told, "to perceive any warrant for the continued placing by the Japanese authorities of obstacles in the way of return by Americans who have legitimate reason for proceeding to the areas in question."

The United States specifically demanded the return of the University of Shanghai to the Northern and Southern Baptist Missionary Societies. The university has been occupied by Japanese military and naval units, the note said, since shortly after the outbreak of hostilities at Shanghai in August, 1937.

"During the period of Japanese occupancy several buildings have been damaged and the majority looted," the note continued.

Franco Forces Losing Ground

Loyalist Counter-attacks Recover Captured Territory in East Spain

HENDAYE (AP)—The insurgent power drive against the Teruel-Valencia highway appears to be stalling again before increasing Spanish government resistance.

In many sections of the mountainous front, which guards the highway to the Mediterranean coast, government counter-offensives in the last two days have recaptured territory lost to Gen. Franco's warriors.

Government advices said their militiamen had captured Cencerossos el Coso, just above Valbona.

Barcelona pilots prevented large scale bombardments of government positions. In one combat, government dispatches said, 12 insurgent planes were shot down.

Timber Losses In Alberta Fires

EDMONTON (CP)—Bush fires are causing serious damage to the lumbering industry in the Burnt Hills and Burnt River area, north of Grande Prairie, according to word received here today.

In a strong wind and dense clouds of smoke, rangers and settlers are having the utmost difficulty in fighting the fires. Large crews of men are battling the fires both day and night in an attempt to save much of the valuable timber. Several small camps have been burned out, reports said.

South of Grande Prairie, along the Wapiti River, other fires are sweeping their way along the bushland and are making headway despite efforts of the fire fighters to check and bring them under control.

City By-law Considered to Prevent Slashes in Bus Charges For Tour Parties

Introduction of a special by-law in the city to prevent bus companies from soliciting tour party business in points outside the city, chiefly in the U.S., on a basis of greater than 15 per cent rate reductions, was considered by Mayor Andrew McGavin today.

Yesterday the mayor conferred with H. L. Swan, provincial highway commissioner, on the bus question. By provincial legislation, companies soliciting such business are restricted to an allowance of 15 per cent discount on charges for highway tours. Regulations covering that point do not hold, however, in the city. The proposed by-law would make the rulings uniform, the mayor stated.

BRITISH FILM AT OAK BAY

"Farewell Again" Introduces Flora Robson and Leslie Banks in Leads

A magnificent British film, providing rare and wholly delightful entertainment, is offered today at the Oak Bay Theatre, where "Farewell Again" is the main attraction.

Produced by Erich Pommer, who scored a big success with "Fire Over England," "Farewell Again" is a great picture. A perfect blending of comedy, romance and drama, there is something for every taste. It will rank as one of the leading films of the year.

Heading an exceptionally strong cast are Flora Robson and Leslie Banks, both at their brilliant best in made-to-measure roles. Other outstanding performances are given by Patricia Hilliard, a beautiful newcomer clearly destined for the highest screen honors; Sebastian Shaw, Leonora Corbett, Robert Cochran, Rene Ray, Robert Newton and Edward Lexy.

Western Story At The Columbia

William Boyd Starred in "Hopalong Rides Again"

The liberal use of the "wide-open spaces" in "Hopalong Rides Again," latest of the Clarence E. Mulford thrillers to feature William Boyd, George Hayes and Russel Hayden, which opened today at the Columbia Theatre, proves that the "Old West" still exists—at least scenically.

Filmed in the High Sierras, near Lone Pine, Cal., some 250 miles from Hollywood, the natural pictorial beauty of the setting forms a perfectly fitting background for one of the most dramatic and unforgettable western stories ever to reach the screen.

Towering hills, mountain streams tumbling over ricky cliffs, and giant trees all play their parts in adding to the natural beauty of the setting.

Jane Withers Comes to Atlas

Two trademarks of summer are the settling down of the robins and the appearance of gypsy bands with their colorful costumes.

Whether the gypsies camp in a nearby cornfield or take over a vacant store in town, they inevitably set up as fortune tellers.

It is as fortune tellers and musicians that one company of itinerants is shown in Twentieth Century-Fox's latest starring vehicle for Jane Withers — "Rascals." The comedy is coming to the Atlas Theatre tomorrow.

CAPITOL THEATRE

A motion picture now tells the story of the test pilot, the most daring of modern heroes who wager their lives against the strength of an untried airplane.

"Test Pilot," which is at the Capitol Theatre, is the story of a man whose life is a constant gamble with death. It is strong drama, but so realistic and so authentic in all flying sequences that every aviator in the land will undoubtedly point to a milestone in the progress of motion pictures.

Clark Gable, Myrna Loy, Spencer Tracy and Lionel Barrymore head the cast. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in bringing their first aviation picture in more than two years to the screen, spared nothing to make it the true story of modern aviation. That it contains thrills, dangerous dives and spectacular flying is due to the very nature of a man whose life is a daily bout with death.

The buoyancy of floating soap is attained by the introduction of air into the soap by a whipping process.

ROYAL FARCE MERRY SHOW

Plenty of Laughs in "You Can't Take It With You"

With record-breaking runs in New York, Chicago and Boston to its credit, that rollicking farce comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," comes to the Royal Monday and Tuesday, June 6 and 7.

Any attempt to count the laughs in this merry harlequinade from the nimble pens of Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman would be a futile undertaking, for the side-splitting fun begins with the rise of the curtain and never abates except during those brief intervals when the young lovers attempt to plight their troth. The Sycamores are a family that can not be serious no matter what happens, and even when everyone concerned if hauled off to jail at the end of the second act "Grandpa" Vanderhof finds a bright side in his recollection of the dignified Mr. Kirby being pushed into a patrol wagon.

The individual and collective performances of the players are said to be perfect in capturing and projecting the spirit of contagious lunacy which puts the play in the front rank of the season's diversions. Ethel Wilson, Clarence Oliver, Sara Sherburne, Barbara Fulton, Roy Johnson, Joseph Kallini, Ulla Kazanova, Glen Boles and Reginald Mason share honors in this outstanding success.

DANCE REVUE FRIDAY NIGHT

Clever Local Artists Will Appear in "Footlight Frolics"

"Footlight Frolics" will be the 15th revue presented by the clever artists of the Russian Ballet School. Although all amateurs, the pupils are almost in the ranks of professionals, and this year's performances will prove their varsatility and artistry.

Dancing to suit the taste of all has been combined in the program, and the audience will enjoy a well-balanced entertainment of operatic, Spanish, character, national and the ever-popular tap dancing.

Three complete ballets will be interspersed with many novel divertisements. The tiny tots will play no small part in this revue; these three and four-year-olds toddle around the stage donned in the attire of penguins and Eskimos and other similar roles. Everything possible has been done to make this year's show bigger and better than ever. "Footlight Frolics" will be staged at the Royal Victoria Theatre, Friday, June 3, at 8.15.

PLAZA THEATRE

Charlie McCarthy has a stand-in to prove he is a topflight screen actor. The stand-in worked with Charlie during the filming of Samuel Goldwyn's technicolor musical, "The Goldwyn Follies," which is currently at the Plaza Theatre.

During 1936, China bought $7,185,556 worth of American aircraft. In 1937 China bought only $3,961,819 worth of planes, while Argentina took the lead in the purchase of American aircraft.

Alpine Comedy In "Swiss Miss"

Laurel and Hardy reach a new peak of comedy in an Alpine setting, climbing to dizzy heights of mirth in "Swiss Miss," their new musical film, which opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre. Their new picture has been given a highly entertaining plot and a sumptuous production. Settings are of unusual beauty and some of the scenes in and about the village inn where most of the action takes place rank high in pictorial quality.

Singers, dancers and musicians, garbed in the quaint costumes of the region, give a glamorous impression of a Swiss fete.

Romance enters the picture in the persons of Della Lind and Walter Woolf King.

Syd Freeman Drops $100,000 On Derby

Briton "Goes Off Deep End" in Buying Shares in Sweepstake Tickets

NEW YORK—Sydney (Duggie Always Pays) Freeman, British betting commissioner, blinked awake for a spot-of-tea breakfast interlude today, said he had lost about $100,000 on the English Derby at Epsom Downs through his sweepstake ticket buying—and then went blissfully back to sleep.

"No use getting annoyed about it," he said mildly, "though I stood to win perhaps $250,000 if the favorite had come through."

Freeman, a poker-faced, pink-cheeked little man with grey hair and sad blue eyes, took a sip of tea and explained that in 30 years of race-track betting and in recent years of buying shares in sweepstakes tickets he had learned "never to get excited."

Wagering ethics, he said, made it impossible for him to disclose the names of winners who had dealt with him.

NEW YORK WINNER

But Henry Charles Jupp, 54, a $13-a-week rubber in the Turkish baths at a large hotel, disclosed that he was the anonymous "Five Gambling Snooks"—named for himself, his wife and three daughters—who held the New York ticket on Bois Roussel, the winner.

Jupp said he sold half a share to Freeman for $5,600 making his half ticket worth $80,600.

"Duggie" said he "went rather off the deep end" on the favorite, Pasch, who came in third, paying $20,000 each for nine half-shares. He stands to net about $45,000 on Pasch.

He also had four half-shares at $6,000 each on Scottish Union, which will return him $126,000 net.

He paid about $6,000 each for two half-shares on the winner, which will net him about $138,000.

"Duggie" said his $309,000 winnings on the three front-running horses would still leave him a stiff deficit.

Commons Told Of Karl Gerhard

Naturalized in 1937, Says Rinfret; Tim Buck Charges Naziism

OTTAWA (CP)—Answering a question asked Tuesday by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, Hon. Fernand Rinfret, State Secretary, told the Commons yesterday that Karl Rudolf Gerhard of Montreal had his Canadian naturalization papers issued November 16, 1937, but "there is no record of the naturalization in Canada of any person bearing the name of Emil Karl Gerhardt."

Mr. Bennett had asked if Karl R. Gerhard or anyone with a similar name had been naturalized in Canada in 1938.

Tim Buck, general secretary of the Communist Party of Canada, presenting his party's brief to the Rowell commission here yesterday, made a reference to alleged Fascist activities in Quebec. In part he said:

"I have a file of actual letters from an official of the German National Socialist Party to a young Cnadian of German descent advising him that if he wanted to join the Nazi Party he was to apply to the Canadian Leader of the Nazis.

"The address given for him to apply is 117 Keefer Building, Montreal, which is the room of the German Consul, and the man to whom he was to address the letter was Karl Gerhard as the Canadian leader of the Nazi Party."

A man named Karl Gerhard of Montreal told newspapermen last Sunday that he was not "a personal representative of Chancellor Hitler, not an expert for Anticosti Island and I have nothing to do with any German affair or consulate.

To Follow 1937 Wheat Policies

LEMBERG, Sask. (CP)—Operation of the Canadian Wheat Board with a fixed price on a similar basis to that in effect last year was outlined here last night by Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal Minister of Agriculture, while addressing a public meeting in the interests of Hon. C. M. Dunn, Minister of Highways.

Mr. Gardiner did not indicate at what level the price of wheat would be pegged for this year's marketing set-up, but in general terms intimated that in principle the operation of the board would be similar to that maintained by the government last year.

BLACK IS TO SEEK COMMONS SEAT

OTTAWA (CP)—Return to political life of Captain George Black, former Speaker of the House of Commons, was announced last night by Mrs. Black, present Conservative member for the Yukon, in an address to the Ottawa Conservative Business Women's Club.

Mrs. Black indicated Capt. Black, ill for several years, would attempt to find a seat again in the House of Commons. Mrs. Black, who succeeded him as the Yukon's representative in 1935, will not seek re-election.

The former Speaker, according to Mrs. Black, will come to Ottawa after completion of a speaking tour he is making in the Yukon and will be present at the Conservative convention here in July.

For 40 years Mrs. Black has stood beside her husband in campaigning in the Yukon.

France Stepping Up Air Forces

PARIS (CP)—France has drafted United States aid to increase her first-line fighting planes from 1,400 to 2,600 by next April.

The program involves an estimated expenditure of 3,500,000,000 francs ($94,500,000), of which 900,000,000 francs ($24,300,000) would buy U.S. machinery for French aviation factories.

London Market

LONDON, (AP)—Stock prices moved irregularly and business was restricted, due to the forthcoming Whitsuntide holiday and renewed efforts to negotiate peace in Europe. Mining shares were very active, especially Western Holding, which advanced 2d and then reacted on reports of disappointing developments. Copper issues, Trans-Atlantic and industrials moved slightly higher, with aircraft and motors in good demand. British funds continued firm and German bonds advanced.

July Wheat Is Up Again Today

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg July could not hold all of its early five-cent advance today which pushed a three-day rally to 13¾ cents. It made a strong comeback at the close, despite bearish United States record-breaking crop estimates, to finish 4⅜ cents up, at 101¾. October ⅞ to 1¼ higher at 77¼ to 77⅝. December closed 75¼ B.

July forged above the dollar-mark today and virtually wiped out losses in recent sessions that carried it down to 88⅝ cents.

One large southern interest continued to buy Winnipeg July and orders from this source were largely responsible for the five-cent limit advance at the opening.

Buying thinned as the session advanced and minor selling occurred which, at one time, forced July about four cents from its top price.

Firmness at Liverpool and improved overseas demand for wheats were offset by the average of U.S. 1938 crop estimates placing probable production at 1,077,000,000 bushels, a new high peak.

The estimates of 810,000,000 bushels for winter wheat production and 267,000,000 for spring wheat, surpassed the combined production of 1915 by 68,000,000 bushels. Winter wheat yield last year totaled 685,000,000 bushels.

December wheat future made its first appearance at 75¾ cents and eased more than a cent during the mid-session slump.

Liverpool closed 1¼d higher to unchanged. Buenos Aires averaged slightly higher.

Cash wheat continued dull. Coarse grains showed little change.

CHICAGO (AP)—Late rallies lifted Chicago wheat prices fractionally today after prospects of a 1938 domestic harvest eclipsing any heretofore known had forced the market one cent down.

Helping the late advance was North American export business totaling upwards of 400,000 bushels. United States hard winter wheat was sold to England, Belgium and Holland.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅜ to ¾ above yesterday's finish, July 69¼ to 69⅜, September 70⅜ to 70½; corn 1⅛ to 1⅜ advanced, July 57⅛ to 57¼, September 57⅞ to 58, and oats 1 cent to 1¼ up.

Buying In Utilities Livens Up Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Late buying in utilities awakened a sleeping stock market today and selected issues, after succumbing to earlier profit-selling, got back on the rallying trail for net gains of fractions to a point or so. There was an assortment of losses, however, at the close.

The list extended Wednesday's upswing at the opening, but soon met sufficient offerings to take the steam out of leaders. Transfers were around 500,000 shares.

Power and light company stocks drew support at the last when Senator Barkley, arguing in the Senate for the lending-spending program, said President Roosevelt intended to carry out the policy of not appropriating funds for construction of municipal electric plants in competition with existing private concerns until municipalities, in good faith, had offered to purchase corporation properties.

Commodities did better at the finish, although most lacked stamina in the forenoon proceedings.

Steels were good in the morning, but eventually gave way and ended somewhat irregular. Rails were fairly well taken as unofficial estimates placed last week's freight loadings at more than 560,000 cars, a new top since the week ended March 26. The official future is to be released tomorrow.

Governments assumed leadership of the Bond Street after Secretary Morgenthau's announcement the treasurery's June financing would involve no offering of securities to raise additional cash.

Ways of Wildcats

When people want to tell what "a good fighter" some man or animal is supposed to be they say:

"He can lick his weight in wildcats!"

A few animals may be able to do that, but a fox can not. Foxes are afraid of wildcats, especially of the Canadian lynx. In some sections trappers have complained because lynxes have killed off so many foxes.

A wild cat of Turkey

Now and then a dog may whip a wildcat of its own size, but it seems far more common for the wildcat to be the winner. A wildcat is apt to run up a tree when it sees a dog, large or small, but this probably is because a man with a gun so often walks with the dog through the forest.

As to a man whipping his weight in wildcats, I think there is not one who could do it. If Joe Louis were put in a cage with six or seven large wildcats, I am sure he would want to get out in a hurry!

Wildcats are of so many kinds and are found in many countries. Well do I remember the gleaming eyes of a wildcat I saw one night walking through the Black Forest in Germany!

On our continent, wildcats often are called by such names as "bobcats," "red lynxes," "tiger cats" and "cats-of-the-mountain."

The animals have short tails and light brown or reddish brown fur. A full-grown cat is likely to weigh between 15 to 30 pounds, but there are cases where the weight goes up to 40 pounds.

Hollow trees are favorite dens of wildcats, and often the den is 25 feet above the ground. From two to four young are born in each litter. Like kittens of house cats, they are blind at birth.

W. L. Dougherty has told of an amusing event during his boyhood. While going through a small woods he heard a cat's cry, and called "Kittie, kittie, kittie!" In a moment he caught sight of the animal, which was a half-grown wildcat, although he did not know it. Here is the rest of the story, as he told it:

"I edged up to it, and it backed off. I started to go, and it started to come, too . . . I let it come as close as it would, then got it by the neck and held on. I had the fight of my life to keep it, but I did and carrid it home.

"It tried to get out of the house, but could not, and finally went into mother's room, got under the bed, and stayed there until father came home.

"When he arrived I told him I had a nice "kittie" for him, and that it was under the bed. He got down and looked. As soon as he saw those eyes he was scared. 'You've got a wildcat!' he said. It is needless to say that daddy killed it then and there."

Wildcats do not make safe pets; but in a few cases they have been tamed. Ernest Thompson Seton tells of one which, at the age of 10 months, sat in his lap and "purred like a kitten." He adds, however, that its "tooth-and-claw play" was rather rough.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

FRIDAY, June 3, 1938

This should be a fairly fortunate day, according to astrology. Benefic aspects are powerful, but adverse influence are active.

The morning should be profitable to all who buy and sell. Merchants should make the most of opportunities to fill large orders and reasonable prices should prevail.

This is not an auspicious day for completing any sort of agreements, partnership or association. The signing of important papers should be postponed.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of fair prosperity, but they should be cautious in choosing new friends. Peril in the course of a journey is indicated for certain men and women.

Children born on this day probably will be high-strung and quick-tempered, but capable of extreme self-control. Subjects of this sign may be extraordinarily lucky all through their lives.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband and I have been married for 30 years. All of them, except this last year, were happy for me because I believed in him implicitly, and no man could have been kinder to his wife than he has been to me. Now I have suddenly found out that there is a woman he is in love with and when I confronted him with it he told me that the affair had been going on for 20 years and that he loved her better than anything in the world and would not give her up; that he just lived with me to keep up appearances and that he would gladly get out if I said so. I am a wealthy woman in my own right, so I am not dependent on him. What shall I do?

MRS. A. B.

Answer: What can you do under the circumstances but be big and brave enough to step out of the picture and let your husband have the freedom he has craved so long? There can be no happiness for you in holding him against his will. It would be like clutching a corpse to you after the spirit had fled.

It seems to me it would keep your wound always open and bleeding to have him with you, sitting across the table from you at meals, going through the little ritual of domestic talk, coming home of an evening when you knew that he was doing it under compulsion, that he wanted to be with someone else, that he was tired of you and loved another.

He is too old and has been lost to you too long ever to come back, but you are young enough to make a new life for yourself and I think you will be happier if you do so.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have a couple of married friends who make everybody very uncomfortable and embarrassed by doing their petting in public. Even at a party they can't get through an hour without rushing into each other's arms and kissing, which is, of course, nauseating to all beholders. They justify it by saying that they are married and they love each other. I am so fed up with it that I don't think I can stand it much longer. What do you think?

DISGUSTED.

Answer: Methinks they do profess too much, and I would like to bet dollars to doughnuts that instead of billing and cooing at home they bite each other.

DOROTHY DIX.

Royal Scot Pilot Leaves Throttle

Driver of Famous Locomotive Across Canada Retires From Service

CARLISLE, England (CP)—Billy Gilbertson, who drove the famous Royal Scot express train 11,000 miles across Canada and the United States in 1933, has made his last trip at the throttle of a yard engine. He retired in May on his 65th birthday.

Gilbertson started his railway career on his 14th birthday as an engine cleaner, and was paid 6 shillings ($1.50) a week. He became a fireman in 1892 and a driver in 1904. During the 34 years he drove he saw express engines doubled in weight.

"When I statred on the railway we still had some engines without cabs to protect enginemen from the weather," he said. The engines had "only hand brakes to stop them—if you were lucky."

The veteran driver received the British Empire Medal for meritorious service on his return from North America with the Royal Scot.

That he was decorated and drove King George V in 1932 between Carlisle and Crewe are not Gilbertson's proudest memories. The proudest is his safety record. He has never had an accident.

King Will Lead Home Fleet Out

His Majesty Will Spend Three Days With Ships in Manoeuvres

PORTSMOUTH, Eng. (CP)—King George has set aside three days in June to visit the Home Fleet. His schedule includes participation in manoeuvres, attendance at a ship's concert and a visit to shore establishments.

Arriving by train at Weymouth June 20, he will be received by Admiral Sir Charles Forbes, commander-in-chief of the Home Fleet, and other flag officers and go aboard the royal yacht Victoria and Albert.

The following day the King will lead the fleet to sea in H.M.S. Nelson, the flagship, and will watch various exercises and manoeuvres, including the catapulting of aircraft, torpedo attacks by destroyer flotillas, firing practice at the Centurion by battleships and cruisers and live bombing practice by aircraft.

The fleet will return to Weymouth Bay the same day and in the evening the King will attend a fleet concert on H.M.S. Courageous, whose enormous hangar will be transformed into a theatre. Officers and lower-deck ratings will provide a program of the old-fashioned music-hall type, similar to that which the Duke of Windsor saw at Portland in 1936 as King Edward VIII.

On the third day the King will land at Portland and visit the anti-submarine school and other shore establishments and return to London in the afternoon.

Aorangi Makes Speedy Passage

Prominent Travelers Reach Victoria From Australasia Today

Bringing a prominent list of travelers from the Antipodes, Canadian-Australasian motorliner Aorangi, Capt. Thomas V. Hill, made port this forenoon, completing one of the fastest passages she has ever made from Australia.

Making William Head at 10.40, the twin red-stacked motorship was given smart clearance in quarantine and by the noon hour she was alongside Pier 2, Rithet Docks.

Outstanding among the Aorangi's 460 passengers was N. S. Falla, managing director of the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, who is making his second visit to Canada within six months.

He is en route to New York and England and will discuss with Canadian Pacific officials in Montreal developments leading to the proposed construction of two subsidized superliners which are slated to be built for the Canadian-Australasian trade out of Victoria and Vancouver.

Among other well-known people arriving by the liner were: Gordon Johnson, Canadian National traffic manager in the Antipodes; Frank Vierra, conductor of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel band in Honolulu, with Mrs. Vierra; N. B. Casey, superintendent of prisons for Fiji, going to England with Mrs. Casey; W. H. Roughton Sr. of Sydney, on a tour of eastern Canada to effect trade agreements with Canadian firms; Alex Glassey, ex-member of Parliament for East Dorset and former Lord Commissioner of the Treasury, accompanied by Mrs. Glassey, en route to England by the Empress of Britain.

Another traveler on the liner was H. Boulton, New Zealand director of the British concern, Thomas Meadows Limited, and Mrs. Boulton, also proceeding to England.

Will Supervise Bermuda Flight

Capt. Griffith Powell, 31, to Head New York-Hamilton Run

HAMILTON, Bermuda (CP)—Imperial Airways have singled out one of their youngest and most distinguished officers to take over supervision of the company's service between Bermuda and New York.

He is Capt. Griffith James Powell, a modest Welshman of 31 years, who has flown the most hazardous air routes, including shuttle trips across the Atlantic.

First British pilot to receive a license endorsed for both land and marine aircraft, Capt. Powell also holds the record for the fastest crossing of the North Atlantic. Piloting the flying boat Cambria last summer, he flew from Botwood, Newfoundland, to Foynes, Ireland, in 10½ hours.

Born in Cardiff, Wales, he started flying in 1926 with the Royal Air Force, serving with one of the regular squadrons for three years. Later he was transferred to the R.A.F. Flying School at Digby as an instructor and remained there until 1930. In the same year he retired to the R.A.F. Reserve and joined Imperial Airways as first officer. He was promoted captain the following year.

Stationed at Cairo, Capt. Powell was engaged in flying land planes on the North African sector of the company's Empire routes until 1937, when he was transferred to the Mediterranean division with headquarters in Southampton.

In that year he was given command of the Cambria. Before essaying the Atlantic flight, he piloted the giant plane on a 1,200-mile non-stop flight around Britain.

Off duty, Capt. Powell finds relaxation as a gardener, but his chief hobby is collecting airplane models. He brings with him to Bermuda his Australian-born wife and infant son.

FAMOUS YACHT DESIGNER DIES

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Capt. Nathanael Greene Herreshoff, known in the yachting world as "the wizard of Bristol" for his designing and building of America's Cup defenders, died early today at his Bristol home. He was 90 years old and had been ill for a year.

"Nat" Herreshoff, one of seven brothers, three of whom were blinded in youth, designed and built every America's Cup defender from 1893 to 1920. The firm also built the defenders of 1930 and 1934, Enterprise and Rainbow, although the designing was done by W. Starling Burgess.

His blind brother, John, was the "hands" of the firm, and Nat was the "eyes." They worked together for years, and gave the world not only fin-keeled racing boats and other revolutionary designs in sail, but they developed a coil boiler in connection with a marine engine that turned up unprecedented horsepower. Since 1924, when a new company was formed to take over the Herreshoff plant at Bristol, Nat had been a stock owner and adviser. He is survived by his widow, four sons and a daughter.
